DEATH'S RICH TOLL

FOUR HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-TWO MEN GIVE UP THEIR LIVES IN MINE.

CAUGHT BY FLAMES UNDERGROUND

Twelve of the Victims Were Members of Rescue Party Seeking the 460 Others in Bowels of Earth—No Hope of Escape.

Hearst News Service.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—Four hundred and seventy-two men, according to the most reliable estimates obtainable here at midnight, went to their deaths in a frightful disaster at the mine of the St. Paul Coal Co. at Cherry, four miles from here this afternoon.

Twenty-four men only of all those in the mine escaped.

One rescue party of twelve men perished. The rescuers knew that they were venturing into the jaws of death, but they did not flinch. As they were nearing the top of the shaft on their return trip a sheet of flame enveloped them and they were burned to death almost in an instant. The known dead rescuers are: Joseph Yearley, miner, Springfield; Alex Strangberg, miner, manager third vein; John Flood, Toluca, miner; James Jamison, Cherry, miner; John Mundy, miner, in charge of second vein; J. Speer, Cherry; Harry Stewart, Cherry; Dominic Zegermanto, Grover, Cherry; Isaac Lewis, liveryman, Cherry; Robert Clark, Cherry.

Four hundred and sixty other men are entombed in the fiery furnace hundreds of feet below the surface of the ground, and every shaft, the only possible means of exit, has been hermetically sealed by the flames. The imprisoned miners—those who have not died from the fire—will be suffocated in the bowels of the earth. The fire will burn for weeks and perhaps months.

All hope of rescue is out of the question. The men, if any may still be alive, are penned in by a wall of flames from the outside world.

The Cherry mine was a new one and one that was supposed to have been fitted with the most modern appliances to prevent just such a disaster as this, which is the worst in the history of coal mining in the state, if not in the country.

President Earling, of the St. Paul railroad, has wired to all the mining officials throughout the state to hasten to the scene of disaster at his company's expense in order to plan for the prompt rescue of the entombed men, if such a thing be possible.

President Earling's agents have given him hope that in some of the side shafts there will be sufficient air to maintain life for twelve hours.

The situation at the scene of the disaster is a terrible one, as there is scarcely a home in Cherry but that has one or more members of the family among the dead, dying and injured. Doctors have been rushed to Cherry from many miles around.

WILL DEPART TONIGHT

Ex-Alderman J. J. Reiley to Return to Mississippi.

J. J. Reiley, who, with his family, was called here last Wednesday morning from Okolona, Miss., by the death of his father-in-law, Charles Fleck, sr., will depart for home tonight, but Mrs. Reiley and the four children will remain several days longer.

The Democrat-Sentinel knows of no former Sedalian who has a larger circle of friends in the Queen of the Prairies than "Jake" Reiley. While a resident here he represented the Second ward in the city council several terms, served most acceptably as a member of the Carnegie library board, assisted William Latour in giving dramatic entertainments for many worthy objects, ran an engine on the Missouri Pacific, and was, withal, a rattling good fellow.

Mr. Reiley is now general foreman of the Mobile & Ohio mechanical department at Okolona, under George McKee, general superintendent of motive power for the entire system, and who years ago ran an engine on the M. & T., with his home in Sedalia. Mr. McKee is also a warm personal friend of Mr. Latour, and, like the latter, is never happier than when witnessing a first-class dramatic production.

Mr. Reiley has a fine position and is under the immediate supervision of Mr. E. G. Brooks, general master mechanic, with headquarters at Mobile, whose many sterling qualities Mr. Reiley never fails to set forth when conversing with railroad friends.

"Jake" has done exceedingly well since his removal to the "Sunny South," but he still has a warm spot in his heart for Sedalia and Sedalians, and a legion of friends here are always glad to welcome him and his, but under circumstances without a tinge of sadness, as has been the case on the present visit, occasioned by the death of that model citizen, Charles Fleck.

SHE IS NOT GUILTY

MME. MARGARETA STEINHEIL ACQUITTED OF MURDER OF HUSBAND AND MOTHER.

VERDICT RECEIVED WITH CHEERS

Jury Was Out Two Hours and Brought in its Finding at 1 O'clock This Morning—Outcome Was Fully Expected.

Hearst News Service.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Mme. Marghereta Steinheil was acquitted in the early hours of this (Sunday) morning by the jury of the charge of murdering her husband, Adolphe Steinheil, painter, and her stepmother, Mme. Japy.

The jury brought in its verdict shortly before 1 o'clock, after deliberating only two hours. Loud cheers greeted the verdict, and despite the late hour all the papers issued extras.

The Verdict Was Predicted.

Paris, November 13.—The public awaited with confidence the acquittal of Madame Steinheil. Guilty or innocent, the impression was general that the state had not made out a case against her.

M. Aubin, counsel for the accused, began his argument when court opened today. Originally charging that she murdered both her husband and stepmother, the prosecution modified its allegations as the trial progressed, finally eliminating the charge of patricide, and admitting that the accused woman might be an accomplice rather than the principal.

All Paris, it seemed, clamored today at the doors of the palace of justice when the curtain rose upon the final act of the legal drama which has thrilled and absorbed France to the exclusion of practically everything else for ten days.

Among those who gained admission were Henri Rochefort, the veteran free-lance journalist, whose attempts to give the tragedy a political color have gone far to excite popular interest in the case; several widely known dramatists and playwrights and a dozen other celebrities.

The resumption of the trial this afternoon with the argument of M. Aubin, for the defense, was delayed by the unexplained absence of the foreman of the jury, M. Poupart, a merchant of St. Ouen.

A fellow juror explained that yesterday the foreman had complained of vertigo. Judge De Valles ordered a physician sent to see Poupart, and in the meantime suspended the sitting of the court.

Marietta Wolf, the former cook in the Steinheil household, and her son, Alexandre, both of whom had testified for the defense, contributed to the general excitement today with grandiloquent bursts of indignation.

Before the sitting of the court Mme. Wolf and her son were told of the open intimation made in court yesterday that they had been accomplices in the murders. Marietta turned pale at the words of her informant, but when she recovered herself declared that she had no fear. She asked angrily why she had not been questioned on this point when she was a witness, and added:

"It was a good thing that Alexandre was not present in court when these

FAREWELL TO FERRER.

The world-wide agitation over the career and end of Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish anarchist, must rank as one of the most curious modern illustrations of self-delusion. It would not be correct to call it popular delusion, adds the Chicago Inter-Ocean, since its victims were commonly persons who passed as educated and well informed.

In France the incident was, of course, seized upon by socialist, anarchist and anti-church agitators as campaign material. In Paris it produced a riot in which one policeman was killed, a dozen wounded and from which the prefect of police narrowly escaped with his life.

In England the chief victims of the delusion about Ferrer seem to have been the evangelical non-conformists. The Liverpool body of these persons passed resolutions condemning Ferrer's execution as a "judicial murder," and condoning with his "wife and children." When these worthy persons learn that Ferrer's wife found cause to leave him years ago, and that the woman with him in Spain was not his wife their embarrassment may be imagined.

In the United States the immediate victims were our "sociologists" and the great numbers of well-intentioned people whose willingness to be deceived by noise and names causes them to echo any sentiment expressed in the name of "humanity."

But who was Ferrer and what had he done to make him worthy even for a moment of the outpourings of sympathy that were given to his fate in this and other countries? A Paris correspondent of the New York Evening Post answers these questions from the record:

Francisco Ferrer was self-educated, which was to his credit as a man, but which fact makes intelligent people distrustful of him as a far-reaching thinker. His first public appearance was about twenty years ago as a teacher of Spanish in Paris. He had a wife and two little daughters. His wife found cause to leave him, taking the children with her, and they have been brought up without his help. One of them is a widowed working woman with two little children. The other is an actress.

About the time his wife left him Ferrer became intimate with an unmarried French woman of fortune, who on her death left him $150,000. Her executor and the notary who drew the will state that her object was to found an orphanage in Barcelona, but that the testator not having expressed this intention in her will, but only in private letters to Ferrer, it was not possible to prosecute the latter for breach of trust in using the money to subsidize anarchist schools and to circulate anarchist literature.

Ferrer was not tried for being an anarchist or for teaching anarchy. He was tried and condemned for overt acts in connection with the Barcelona insurrection, in which 138 persons were murdered by the insurgents. He was not tried by the civil courts, but by military tribunal, because under the law of Spain where a state of insurrection is formally declared to exist the civil courts are automatically closed and the military courts take their place. This may not be right law, according to our ideas, but it is the law of Spain.

King Alfonso had no opportunity to pardon Ferrer. He could not legally do so under the Spanish constitution without the approval of the responsible minister. This approval and the papers Premier Maura saw fit to withhold.

Mr. Maura did with the king what Mr. Stanton did with President Johnson in the case of Mrs. Surratt. The only difference was that Mr. Maura did not exceed his constitutional powers in so doing, while Mr. Stanton exercised an arbitrary discretion.

In view of these facts, how silly do those Americans look, who though neither socialists nor anarchists, persist in praising as a martyr a professed atheist, whose rule of life was "No government, no God. Down with these humbugs!"

THE AUTO AND THE FARMER.

The national good roads convention, which it is proposed to hold in Washington in January, may not succeed in getting through congress a law for national registration of motor cars. The states which now license these vehicles are jealous of their privilege, and in a matter of this kind congressmen are apt to remember the folks at home.

But good would be likely to come of a discussion of good roads in all parts of the country and a better understanding might be arrived at with respect to state laws governing both roads and automobiles. In the meantime the motor car men are gaining allies in an unexpected quarter, says the St. Louis Republic.

In the recent past the farmers have bitterly resented the invasion of their roads by "devil wagons," driving furiously along, frightening horses, running over chickens and filling the atmosphere with a villainous smell of gasoline. But the farmers in many districts are becoming converted from their desire to shoot the chauffeur at sight. They are getting automobiles for themselves, and this alone enhances their interest in good roads.

A banker in a Missouri town told a St. Louis man not long ago that he had no less than seventy farm mortgages, every one of which had been made to enable the owner to buy an automobile.

It does not require the wisdom of Solomon to know that if the roads around that town are not good now they soon will be.

The farmer, who has an auto can go long journeys without wearing out his horse. He can live in town and go quickly every day to the lands he cultivates. He can experience the delights of "joy riding" with a clear conscience, provided he keeps within the speed limit. But to get the most out of his machine he must have good roads. Good roads and the auto are close partners.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Guide's Great Feat.

An Alpine guide, Philippe Allamand, of Bex, has gained publicity in the Swiss papers by a marvelous pedestrian achievement. He started on a Monday from Taesch and ascended to the Weisshorn hut, whence he returned to the valley to fetch a member of his party who had been left behind. There was time for only three hours' sleep after that, and then the Weisshorn had to be climbed. It was in bad condition, and the ascent took nearly 11 hours. No sooner had he reached the top than Allamand hastened down and proceeded to Zermatt to join another party who had engaged him for the Matterhorn. He overtook them in the hut at four o'clock on Tuesday morning, went up the Matterhorn at once, and did not get back until 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, having been 44 hours without sleep, walking and climbing all the time. Even then he took only a day's rest before leading a party up the Dent Blanche.

Worth a Medal.

"I see Paderewski has been decorated again," said a Chicago composer. "If there were a society for the absent-minded now he'd have the grand cross."

"Paderewski once called on a Philadelphia lady in West Walnut street. The lady's little daughter put an orange in his coat pocket as he was leaving, and, in his unconventional, Bohemian way, Paderewski decided to eat the orange on the walk back to his hotel."

"As he crossed Rittenhouse Square he began to peel the fruit. But while he was peeling it a woman he knew glided past in her motor car. Paderewski saluted with a sweeping bow, then gracefully placed a handful of orange peel on his head and tossed his hat into a bed of flowers."

insinuations were made, for had he been he would have raised a pretty row."

Alexandre, too, made a great show of being furious and declared that if he had been present in court when the prosecutor made his insinuations he would have bounded into the arena and shouted:

"Here I am! Now, what have you got to say?"

When court convened Marietta forced her way into the court room and attempted to reach the judge's bench, but she was seized by the police and unceremoniously dragged out of the place.

The report continues current that both Marietta and Alexandre Wolf are in imminent danger of arrest.

Among those who bought standing room in the court room today was Mme. Gabrielle Rejane, the actress.

When the pleadings in the Steinhil case were all in the jury was locked up to study the following questions:

First—Is Mme. Steinhil guilty of the voluntary homicide of her mother?

Second—Is Mme. Steinhil guilty of the voluntary homicide of her mother's husband?

Third—Were those homicides premeditated?

Fourth—Did the second homicide, precede, accompany or follow the first?

These subsidiary questions will also be submitted:

First—Is it established that a voluntary homicide was committed on Mme. Jany?

Second—Is Mme. Steinhil guilty of having wittingly aided in this homicide?

Third—Was Mme. Jany Mme. Steinhil's legitimate mother?

Fourth—Is it established that a voluntary homicide was committed on M. Steinhil?

Fifth—Was there premeditation?

Sixth—Did the homicide of M. Steinhil precede, accompany or follow the voluntary homicide of Mme. Jany?

Seventh—Is Mme. Steinhil guilty of aiding therein?

The question about the legitimate mother is explained by the fact that the French code allows no extenuating circumstances for patricide.

Short Distance View of a King.

The king and queen arrived at Goodwood alone in their motor car, and were received by the duke of Richmond. I was very close to the king when he entered his reserved balcony, and I afterward stood within ten feet of him (in the pouring rain). I also saw him turn up his own trousers and carry his own umbrella, which I think, were I a king, I would have some one else do for me. He is a very smart looking man, indeed, but he has a style of wearing his clothes absolutely different from anybody else. His high silk hat is also distinctive to himself. He also wore a raincoat, a blue Raglan, cut very full, and he had on a bright scarf, with a pink shirt. He wore a dark red carnation in his buttonhole. He is a very democratic king indeed. I fancy though that he plays to the gallery a great deal.—Gentleman's Journal.

An Up-to-Date Book Plate.

The first woman to embody the sport of aeronautics in her book plate is Mrs. Courtlandt Field Bishop, wife of the president of the Aero Club of America. Mrs. Bishop is one of the few women of this country who have enjoyed the experience of sailing through the clouds. Her book plate represents the spherical balloon, the dirigible balloon and the aeroplane in flight over a park. In the border is a King Charles spaniel, the type of dog of which she is fond.—Country Life in America.

Time-Saving Letter.

In an article in Figaro Jean Marcellis predicts the advent of a "lightning correspondence card" which will make the task of correspondence still lighter than it is now. It will be of the ordinary size and printed on one side in two columns will be these short sentences: "Arrived safely," "Am well housed," "Am tired," "Am ill," "Weather fine," "Weather bad," "City interesting," "Place dull," "Hotel good," "Hotel bad," "Table excellent," "Table tolerable," "Table impossible," "Company good," "Am homesick," "Miss you," "The cure is doing me good," "No luck," "How are you all?" "Shall be glad to get back," "Leave here to-night," "Leave to-morrow," "Thanks for letter," "My love to all," "All Send Love," "Meet me at the station—ship," "Bring the children—child," "Yours lovingly," "Yours sincerely." All the writer has to do is to place a cross next to the sentence which he desires to have read, to date and to sign the card. That will be the tourist's letter for the future.

Why Sea Breezes Blow.

Dr. Benjamin, the celebrated pathologist and meteorologist, of Camden, N. J., on a recent visit to Wildwood, now the center of the most thriving part of Cape May county, gave an interesting discourse on "Sea Breezes," a phenomenon more pronounced at Cape May than anywhere along the coast, and the chief cause of its superb climate. Under an unclothed sun the surface of the land is quickly heated, and as the hot air rises, a vacuum is created into which rushes the cold air from the ocean, with the result that the hotter the day the more pronounced the phenomena. Generally about noon the sun causes the hot air to ascend, forming a vacuum into which rushes a strong, steady breeze from the sea, and as night becomes cool, the sea breeze dies down again.—National Magazine.

Improving the Stomach.

It is said that society women, who are forever chasing fads, are eating less than is served on tables in the houses of the poor, and consequently stomach troubles are disappearing and health is gaining in every way. So better figures and more brilliant complexions are seen. Feasts are no longer fashionable, luncheons and dinners being so simple that the problem of preparation is not worth considering. Afternoon tea, served at five o'clock or so, is all some women take after the noon hour. It is usually accompanied by toasted muffins and marmalade or jam or delicious sandwiches and gives the stomach enough work until morning.

Trade in Chinese Girls.

At Chaoting, a city of some 40,000 souls, I was told that one of the brisk directions of local trade was the selling of female children into slavery, and at the time I passed through prices were fairly high, a girl who could boast good looks fetching the alarming figure of 300 taels—this was the highest figure reached—while small children could be had for anything up to 20.

This wholesale disposal of young girls, although the traffic in some quarters was emphatically denied to exist, is one of the chief sorrows of the district. And well it might be, for thousands of children are annually disposed of for a few taels by heartless parents who watch them being carried away as so much merchandise to be converted into silver.

Durability of Concrete.

In the orange garden of the old Capucian monastery, on a hillside about three hundred feet above the Gulf of Amalfi, Italy, there are a number of queer mushroom-shaped tables. These tables, apparently used by the monks for reading purposes, are about two and a half feet high and three feet in diameter at the top and two feet at the base. They are of concrete, and, though, according to local authorities, of an age varying from four hundred to eight hundred years, are in an excellent state of preservation. The excellent condition of these old tables furnishes additional proof of the durability of concrete as applied to lawn and garden ornaments.

Head List of Maniacs.

Costermongers and engineers, one notes, rival each other in heading the list of maniacs. If you don't want to me mad, be a clergyman; you will have about a one to a thousand chance of not dying in a lunatic asylum. It is a bit risky to be a literary or scientific person, but if you put your science into practice and become an engineer your prospect of lunacy jumps to the top, with only costermongers as your real rivals. Why this is is a mystery. It can't be intellect or hurry. Costermongers do not hurry, and they are not noticeably intellectual.

DUCKS AT NEVADA

POPULACE ATE WILD GAME FRIDAY, DESPITE THE STRINGENT GAME LAW.

MYRIAD OF FOWL FLEW INTO TOWN

They Flew Here and There, Many Coming in Contact With Live Wires, and Were Picked Up Dead in the Streets.

Nevada, Mo., Nov. 13.—The new game law was brought into a degree of contempt here Friday, whether violated or not.

The law's provisions make it practically out of the question, as a rule, for those who do not shoot to enjoy the delicacy of wild duck; but here yesterday people were eating duck who never pulled a trigger in their lives, and, what's more, no hunter friend gave the birds to them.

Thursday night was rainy and very dark, and in the early hours of the morning a myriad of ducks flew into town, seemingly attracted by the electric lights and flooded streets, which, from above, must have looked like a big lake.

Once down, the birds became confused and scattered, not knowing which way to go to get away or find their fellows.

As a result, they flew here, there and everywhere, and about every time one struck a wire there was a dead duck.

No less than a hundred were picked up in the streets and on the lawns of citizens, some dead and others only wounded. Most of them were of the black-jack breed, but there were some mallards.

Lately there has been a great flight of ducks, and hunters have been bagging them by scores, but this is the first time on record when an considerable number have come to town and committed suicide.

Using the Hammer.

There was a sound of knocking. "Hark!" exclaimed the Man.

The sound was repeated. The Man trembled. Hope filled his breast. Long, and weary had been his struggle, and now—and now—perhaps—he dared not give utterance to his hope.

The Woman intuitively knew what was in his thoughts. She was more bold, being a Woman.

"Perhaps it is Opportunity knocking," she suggested.

The Man threw open the door. There was no one there. "Who knocks?" he cried, but the night wind merely mocked him. And then the truth dawned upon the Man, and sadly he returned to his task, for he realized that it was only some of his neighbors using the hammer!—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Doctor Monkey.

A monkey in the zoo at DeSoto park, Rome, Ga., is entitled to the degree of M. D., according to its keeper. One of the monkeys in the cage swallowed a marble. It had presence of mind enough to suspend itself by the tail and hang down, in an effort to let the marble drop from its throat, and, failing, it called for help in the simian language, and one of its brothers responded. The doctor monkey rammed his slender arm down the afflicted one's throat and extracted the marble. The relieved sufferer seized the marble from the doctor, and threw it from the cage with all its strength.

In Class by Herself.

The American woman is in a category of her own. She is sui generis. Our national institutions, the air of liberty which we breathe, the character of our people have made her so. But that as a class she is depraved, or blase, or hoydenish, or even spoiled, is not for a moment to be admitted. Max O'Rell once said that the eyes of a French country maiden are wide open like a daisy because her heart is pure. Will any one deny that the same reason applies to the frank and honest gaze of the American girl?

Stands to Reason.

The Patient—What! You refuse to allow my claim? You told me when I insured, that I'd get something if I was sick, didn't you?

Insurance Agent—Well, you must have gotten something or you wouldn't be sick, would you?—Puck.

VISIT TO C. B. C.

SEDALIA INSTITUTION HAS MANY POINTS OF INTEREST FOR ITS GUESTS.

A VISITOR WRITES OF SCHOOL

Says It is the Largest and Best Arranged, With More Pupils Than Any School of Its Kind.

It is interesting to visit Central Business college. To see and inspect the large, well ventilated and well lighted rooms. In the retail department of this school there are large windows on every side, giving the most perfect light and ventilation. The hall is about fifty feet by 100 feet and opens by a large archway into the banking and office department, which is elegantly and conveniently furnished. The writer found almost every seat filled in this immense hall. On visiting the eleven other rooms of this school building that is occupied from basement to dome by Central Business college, the writer wondered where this large body of students came from, but President Robbins here stated that almost every state in the Union was represented, and several foreign countries. He also stated a large number of pupils were coming in all the time. When asked how he found room for them he stated that many were accepting positions all the time, thus making room for others. Said he: "Nearly twenty pupils were placed in good positions last week in answer to telephone, telegraph and letter, none receiving less than $50 per month, and but few at less than $65 per month. Some of my pupils," he said, "have the past week refused positions at as high a salary as $60 per month, to remain in school and prepare for higher positions."

The writer on stating to Prof. Robbins that this was the largest business college he had ever visited, was told that this was only a portion of the school, that the telegraph and railway office department were located opposite the court house square in elegant rooms. He stated that he would be delighted to show me through if I had time. On reaching the telegraph and railway office department the writer was met by his old friend, Prof. Ben Dawson, whom he has known for years as one of the best telegraph operators and train dispatchers in the west, and was delighted to find Prof. Dawson principal of the best telegraph school in America, the Sedalia telegraph school. If a pupil can learn telegraphy in any school he can learn it here. An experienced railroad man is in charge, the railroad live wires run through the school, and the most elegant and convenient equipment to be found in any school, commercial or railway office in the United States is to be found here. One imagines himself in an immense telegraph office in communication with the whole world, as he hears the clicking of the instruments, the railroad messages passing over the live wire, sees the immense battery room, the switch boards, springjacks and wires stretching from pole to pole in every direction. Then to add to the actual business appearance of the work is the large number of pupils performing the railway office work, recording the messages and railway transactions, etc., etc.

Never has it been the privilege of the writer to spend a more interesting day in any business or educational institution.

Something Clever in Penknives.

The question of a really attractive gift for a man is solved to some extent by a novelty in the way of a penknife. The new idea is a silver knife of the finest quality, with an emblem worked out in colored French enamels inserted in the case.

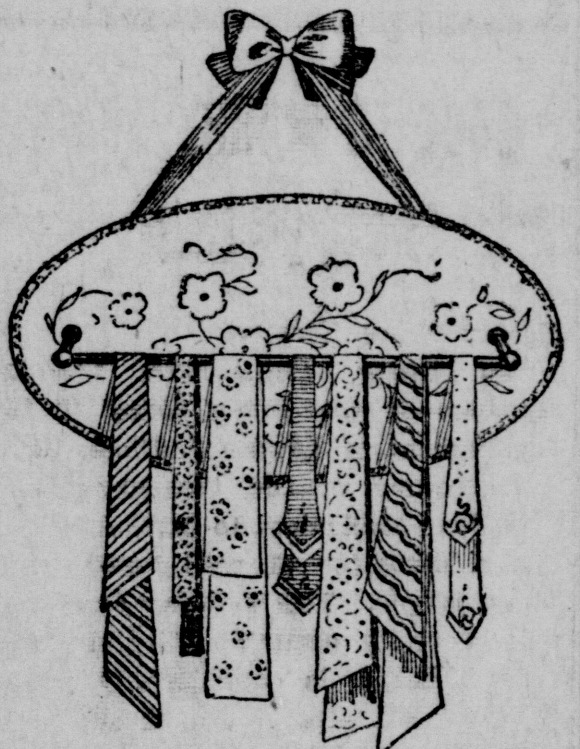

The insignia of his college society or his crest is attractively wrought in colors, making the little keepsake something quite out of the usual run. Girls who are adept at making arts and crafts jewelry would find no difficulty in working the emblems into the silver penknife.

A Novelty in Leather.

One of the new leather triple cases for bills and all manner of memoranda would be a fine Christmas present. The top case holds a thin, shallow watch which has a white surface and black lettering. It is large and distinct and is readily seen and so thin that it does not make a bulge in the case.

Necktie Holder.

Necktie holders are not new things in the way of gifts, but they have the advantage of being useful and always acceptable. Two or three such affairs are not too many for the collection of ties the college boy or up to date man has among his numerous belongings. The newest necktie holder that has been brought out for Christmas is oval in shape and about a foot or more in length. It is made of a stout piece of cardboard, which may be purchased already cut in the shops or cut by the maker of the offering, as desired. This oval is covered with a piece of grayish heavy crash which is embroidered in sampler fashion in odd old time colorings. The wooden frame from which the ties are hung is also to be bought and is fastened through the cardboard and held in place with carpenter's nuts. To make the gift more personal the monogram of the recipient may be embroidered on the crash.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health. There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

WERE WED IN JAIL

A Negro Trusty Was United to His Sweetheart Saturday.

The first event of the kind ever occurring at the county jail took place at that institution at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when John Buckner, a negro, employed as cook at the jail, and Eliza Byrd, divorced wife of Walker Byrd, were married by Circuit Judge Louis Hoffman.

The ceremony occurred in the parlor of the jailer's residence, the witnesses being the sheriff, deputy sheriff, attaches of the jail and "Dockery" Harris, who proved to be the most enthusiastic spectator.

After Judge Hoffman had pronounced the words of the ceremony, Mr. Harris stepped to the center of the room to congratulate the bride, when she gave way to tears—not at the sight of "Dockery," but, as she said, because she was so happy.

Behind the marriage is a romance quite interesting.

Buckner began paying attention to the Byrd woman months ago; in fact, before she became divorced from her first husband. The husband objected, and one day met Buckner. The two clashed, emerging from the conflict badly battered and beaten.

Buckner was arrested and sentenced to one hundred and eighty days in the county jail. His behavior was so good that he was made a "trusty." He continued paying attentions to the Byrd woman, who recently secured a divorce, the decree being granted by the officiating jurist Saturday.

Troublesome Lion Killed.

A mountain lion weighing 120 pounds, which had been preying on cattle in this section for the last few weeks, was shot and killed in the mountains near here by Walter McPherson.

Five calves, seven sheep and one deer on the Hall ranch, near the Geysers, were slaughtered by the ferocious animal, which in most instances devoured part of his victim's carcass and buried the remaining portions. McPherson received $25 bounty from the county for destroying the beast. — Healdsburg correspondence San Francisco Chronicle.

Soothing Effect of Music.

There is nothing new in the theory that music has a beneficial effect on persons who are nervously affected, but its application has not yet become so general as the men who believe in its sedative powers wish. The great Napoleon, who was not a musician, recognized the influence of harmonious sounds and by his order bands "made music under the hospital windows." This order is still in force in the provinces, where the military bands give concerts at stated times in front of the hospitals.—Dr. Spodato, in Medicina Italiana.

Something Nice.

"I am looking for something nice for a young man," said the young and pretty shopper.

"Why don't you look in the mirror?" asked the gallant clerk.

And she was so flustered that he managed to sell her four different things that she did not want before she knew what she was doing.

When in Doubt.

"My dear Mr. Jones," said the doctor, "I will admit that I am not quite decided as to whether or not ours is a constitutional disease."

"Hum! That so?" said the patient, with a heavy sigh. "And have I got to go to the expense of appealing to the United States Supreme court to find out?"

WORK OF A NATURE LOVER

Story Showing What an Enthusiast Will Do When He Really Desires a Garden.

Many a country laborer, as Lord Rosebery said recently, according to the Westminster Gazette, will do much for the sake of a garden, but a few, perhaps, would be willing to go to such pains in the pursuit of their hobby as did an enthusiastic navy with whom Dean Hole once came in contact.

This man, having obtained the position of gatekeeper on a railway, found himself the possessor of a barren gravel pit as an apology for a garden. The dean, who knew the spot well, visited it some 12 months after the man had taken possession and the sight which met his eyes astonished him.

"Was it a mirage I saw upon the sandy desert? There were vegetables, fruits, bushes and fruit trees, all in vigorous health; there were flowers and the queen flower in her glory."

"Why," I exclaimed, "what have you done to the gravel pit?"

"Lor' bless yer," he replied, grinning, "I hadn't been here a fortnight afore I swapped it for a pond!"

"A further inquiry elicited the fact that this most ardent garden lover had, after an agreement with a neighboring farmer, removed with pick and barrow his sandy stratum to the depth of about three feet and wheeled it to the margin of an old pond, which had gradually been filled up with leaves and silt. The rich, productive mold from the pond he had taken home to his garden, replacing it with gravel, and leveling it as per contract."

GROUND OUT THE CIRCULATION

Editor's Neat Method of Finding Out How Many Papers His Rival Printed.

There is always a circulation controversy on between the ephemeral new town newspapers of the west, writes Carl Crow in the Van Norden Magazine.

In the heat of one of these controversies the editor of the Beacon came out one week in a first page announcement that the Phoenix, in a neighboring town, had printed for the previous week's edition exactly 943 papers, of which 37 were spoiled, making the total circulation not more than 906.

The statement was ignored. A few months later the two editors were at a convention of newspaper men and in the natural course of events found themselves at the same bar.

"Now, Bill," said the editor of the Phoenix, "it's all over with and I don't intend to print anything more about it, but I would like to know how you learned what my circulation was. I didn't know for sure myself until you printed the story. Then I looked it up and found that you were right."

"That was easy," replied Editor Bill. "I knew you printed on Wednesday, so I rode over to your town on that day and sat out in a bunch of mesquite a hundred yards back of your office. Every time your old press printed a paper it gave a grunt that you could hear a quarter of a mile and I counted the grunts. There were 943 of them and you stopped the press 37 times to clean a spoiled paper off the rollers."

American Robins to Sing in England.

One of the most interesting of American colonies was established a few months ago at Guilford, in Surrey, where Old England has been solicitously guarding it. Early in the spring 17 specimens of the American robin (Merula migratoria) were imported, and, after a few weeks in an open aviary, most of them were liberated about the middle of June. The birds at once mated and began building in the trees. The colony now includes between 40 and 50 old and young robins, and these are being closely watched, in the hope that liberal feeding may overcome their migratory instinct and prevent them from flying away and becoming hopelessly scattered on the approach of cold weather. Their cheery note—interpreted as "kill 'em, cure 'em, give 'em physic"—has endeared them to the human neighbors about their new home.

The Farthest Point.

There are some unbelievers who would not be convinced by any evidence that Dr. Cook might produce to prove that he had been to the north pole. A correspondent who was frequently ferried across the Thames at Silvertown by an ancient mariner, now at rest, recalls how the old fellow would always stoutly maintain that Nansen had never really been "where he makes out he has been. This is how I see it, sir. There's a certain point beyond where the A'mighty never meant nobody to go, and none of them can't get beyond that, whatever they may say." Where that "point" was did not appear very clearly, but it was evidently well south of Nansen's farthest north.

A Claim to Consideration.

"Why don't you try to add something to the social system?" said the man who is prosperous but severe. "Why don't you take part in the affairs about you?"

"Boss," replied Plodding Pete, "de line of talk you're unreelin' sounds ungrateful. You don't recognize de share I has in makin' it interestin' an' excitin' fur you an' your friends."

"What possible importance do you claim?"

"I'm one o' de fellers dat does fancy steps gettin' out o' de way when your chauffeur toots de honk."

Conducive to Speed.

Farmer Nubbins—I wuz readin' a piece in one of these air comic papers t'other day, Maria, which allowed that a dude couldn't run. Said t'waint in him to travel faster than a walk.

Mrs. Nubbins—Well, Hiram, hev ye seen anything to convince ye to the contrary?

Nubbins (with a reminiscent chuckle)—Hev I? Waal, I jest wish the editor of that comic paper had bin out in the field with me a spell ago an' seen that air city dude who boards with the Hankinses sa'nterin' across the pasture lot ahead of my two-year-old bull!

"Curfew Shall Not—"

The Stranger—Somebody told me there was a curfew law in this burg?

The Constable—There ain't, but there should be, b'gosh! That darn recitation has been recited here without hindrance as long as I kin remember!

MIGHT HAVE BEEN GREAT

Daniel Frohman's Only Comment on Divorce Granted Wife.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—While Daniel Frohman does not care to enter into any discussion of his domestic affairs, he is willing to accede that the wife who divorced him, Margaret Illington, "might have become a great actress." This much he sandwiched into an interview in which he discussed things theatrical, almost to the exclusion of his ex-wife.

"It is a closed incident," said Mr. Frohman when asked about the divorce of his wife. "Mrs. Frohman decided to secure a divorce, and she secured it by agreement. She desired to go into retirement, and as that was her wish I have nothing to say about it. It is to be regretted, however, for the reason that she might have become a great actress."

It was not so much the words as the manner in which Mr. Frohman accented "might have been" that carried the plea that in her husband's opinion, at any rate, Margaret Illington did not attain greatness on the stage.

No trouble to show you our new suitings—Come in. Loewer's Tailor.

The Golf Player.

The man was closely followed by a dense mob. Fierce imprecations rent the air. A fiend incarnate could not have inspired more bitter denunciations.

"Robber!"

"Thief!"

"Kill him!"

Such were the cries of the excited populace.

"Is he, then, such a notorious criminal?" wonderingly asked the stranger within our gates.

We paused in our hasty preparations to hurl a brick and explained to the stranger that the object of our wrath was a baseball umpire, and that the home team had lost the game.

But the stranger displayed little interest, and, coming to the conclusion that he was merely a devotee of golf, we threw the brick.

HANSON COLLIER ASKS $25,000
DAMAGES FROM THE M., K.
& T. RAILWAY.

CAUSE HAS BEEN TRIED BEFORE

Once Got a Verdict for $15,000, Was Reversed, and Then Followed
Many Motions in Many Courts.

Hanson Collier, a former locomotive fireman on the M., K. & T., who suffered perhaps permanent injuries at Lewis station on Sept. 23, 1904, and whose litigation over a damage suit has been hanging fire in various courts since, has instituted suit for $25,000 damages against the M., K. & T. in the Montgomery county circuit court by his attorneys, C. C. Lawson, of this city, and Edward Silver, of Jefferson City.

At the time Mr. Collier was injured John Shain, of Fort Scott, Kan., the engineer of the train, was killed. Mr. Collier first brought suit for $25,000 damages in the Pettis county circuit court.

Later, it was certified to the United States district court, where, in March, 1906, the plaintiff secured a judgment for $15,000. An appeal was taken to the United States circuit court, where the case was reversed and remanded, Judge Phillips rendering the decision.

Still later it was dismissed in the United States court and still later brought in the Cole county circuit court, at which time Joseph McCarthy, who is alleged to have left open the switch, which caused the wreck, was made a party defendant.

McCarthy had gone to Colorado and claimed non-residence, after which the case was again certified to the United States court.

Later the suit was dismissed there, and now it will be called for trial at the January term of court in Montgomery county.

LEASED ANOTHER ROOM

The Globe Store Will Move From Present Quarters.

Tomorrow, the Globe Clothing store inaugurates a removal sale to clear its stocks preliminary to moving. Two months ago notice was given The Globe to vacate. At that time there was no assurance that a desirable building could be secured, and it looked as if the Globe would be forced out of business. Since then, however, a new room has been leased and the Globe will continue in business.

The new room is smaller by half than the old quarters, and the mammoth stock must through necessity be closed out to coincide with the new quarters, hence the effort with a removal sale.

ENDED WITHOUT A FATALITY

Boilish Affair of Honor Principally Amusing to the Brothers of the Principals.

"Do I look like a man who ever fought a duel?" laughed the portly party. "Well, I did, and it was intended to be a duel to the death, too, and, as it often happens, a woman was at the bottom of it. As near as I can figure now I must have been about the ripe age of seven when this deadly affair took place. At that time my heart was wrapped up in a little china doll girl with blue eyes and yellow hair, who kept me in a continual state of bankruptcy buying her taffy and red apples. Unfortunately for my peace of mind, I had a rival, upon whom she smiled with exasperating impartiality. My first impression was to pick a fight with him, but I was always cautious, even as a youth and I had grave doubts about the success of such a plan.

"Then I conceived the happy idea of challenging him to a mortal combat. I hadn't the slightest idea that he would accept, to tell the truth, but he did and with what seemed to me almost indecent haste. Realizing that I would need a second, I went to an elder brother, explained the matter to him and asked him if he would act for me. He listened to me gravely and then said he would. Here was surprise number two. I had been almost certain that he would frown upon the idea and threaten to tell my father, thus giving me an excuse to retire from the field of honor. But the calm way he accepted the situation gave me a chill.

"I suppose," said he, "that Bobby's brother will act as his second?"

"I moistened my lips and said: 'I suppose so.'"

"Very well," said he, "I will talk the matter over with him and we will let you know when you are wanted."

"We were wanted the next afternoon, and it was some consolation to me to discover that my rival's face was as white as mine.

"Now," said our seconds, "you two sit down here in the grass back to back, and the first one to desert the spot loses the fight."

"Then they both retired hastily to a spot that seemed to me at the time to be unnecessarily removed from the place of action. A moment later my rival was going one way and I another. Those miserable brothers of ours had caused us to sit on the top of a big bumblebee's nest."

"LIES, LIES," CRIES CANNON

The Speaker Exploded His Kansas
City Speech in a Home Defense.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 13.—Speaker Cannon, in a bitter address which he began at midnight, made his first utterance early this morning in defense of Cannonism. He was all the while on the defensive. Here in the heart of Illinois he made a speech which he had been preparing to deliver in Kansas City next week. Carried away by the fire in his heart, "Uncle Joe" lambasted everything and everybody who does not agree with him.

The address was delivered before the annual banquet of the Bloomington Business Men's association at the Illinois hotel. The speaker said that Cannonism became an issue only when the newspaper publishers failed to get the tariff removed from wood pulp. He charged Herman Ridder, of New York with having offered to him the support of the metropolitan papers for the presidency if he would railroad through congress, by illegal means, a bill which should make print paper free of duty.

He flayed Senator Cummins and Senator La Follette and denounced as an infamous lie the charge that he had throttled the Littlefield temperance or any other bill. He denied in the same language the charge of Herbert Parsons that there had been a dicker between himself and Tammany for democratic votes for the Cannon rules.

Smartest Looking Girl at Resort Gave Most Attention to Hair, Feet and Corsets.

"You're about the smartest looking girl on this piazza," remarked the old bachelor to the bronze-haired girl at a nearby summer resort. "How do you manage it?" As he knew she worked for a living 50 weeks in the year, she didn't mind.

"I'll tell you," she confessed, "because you can keep a secret and you know I don't have much money to spend. I have just two good points and I make the most of them. And then I always wear fine corsets."

"Huh!" he ejaculated. "What are the alleged good points?"

She smiled cheerfully: "Hair and feet."

He instantly surveyed each and nodded his approval.

"So," she went on, "as I can't afford much in the way of gowns, etc., I blow myself on shoes and stockings, which are much cheaper and quite as noticeable."

"Yes," he asserted; "the way you wear them."

"Then," she continued serenely, "I get the latest style of hair the minute it comes out. That keeps people so busy looking at my puffs they don't have time to notice my dress."

"But the—er—corsets?" he suggested, as she rose to go.

"An absolute necessity," she smiled back at him.

GAGE TO MARRY AGAIN

Former Secretary of the Treasury to Wed a Widow.

Hearst News Service.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 13.—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury under President McKinley, to Mrs. Ada Ballou, a daughter of well known San Diego people. The wedding ceremony will probably occur Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Ballou is considerably younger than Mr. Gage. About six years ago she married a Pittsburg man, but soon secured a divorce. Three years ago Mrs. Ballou became engaged to W. Moore, a millionaire resident of Kansas City, but he contracted a severe cold, which, because of his advanced years, quickly resulted in his death before the marriage could take place.

DOES YOUR PARLOR SUIT YOU?

The coming cold weather means that you are going to spend lots more time indoors, and when company comes, your parlor will be the room you'll want to use. Our showing of parlor suites was never prettier or more varied than it is this fall, and we're anxious for you to see them.

The suite here shown is a sample of what you'll find; the three pieces—rockers, settee and easy chair—are made with heavy mahogany frames, highly polished, the arms and feet on all three pieces are deep carved. The upholstery is either silk velour, put on in loose cushion style, or genuine leather. The settee is larger than the ordinary, and all three pieces are as comfortable as they are good looking.

The complete suite, upholstered in either genuine leather or silk velour, for Killing Off Cannibal Fish.

Cannibal trout in the River Dart are to be exterminated, and since operations were started by the Dart Board of Conservators a few months ago over 300 of the cannibals have been killed. There are many thousands left, however, which will have to be killed before the river produces salmon, peat and trout as it should. The killing of cannibal fish, it is said, is one of the most useful things promoted by the board for some time and would be an advantage to the river.

A Timely Sale of Men's & Young Men's Fine Suits & Overcoats

WE have just been successful in closing one of the greatest money saving purchases with an Eastern Manufacturer of Men's and Young Men's Fine Suits and Overcoats that we have ever been fortunate in buying. On account of the extreme warm weather the past month we have been able to buy a part of a manufacturer's surplus stock at a price that enables us to place these high-grade Men's and Young Men's Suits and Overcoats on sale at prices that are less than we would be able to buy them for under ordinary conditions at the present time.

The manufacturer preferred to sell this surplus stock of this season's goods rather than be compelled to carry them over till next season, and at the price they were offered to us and knowing the kind of goods that this concern makes we consider this one of the greatest purchases that we have ever been able to secure and will place the entire shipment on sale Monday, November 15th at prices that are way below your own expectations, which means dollars saved to you. No trouble to show you the goods as it will be to your advantage to see them as it is an opportunity that seldom offers itself at this season of the year.

MAN AND HIS WIFE

ARE IN CALIFORNIA JAIL CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING TO WRECK A TRAIN.

'TIS SAID THEY HAVE CONFESSED

Ties Placed on Missouri Pacific Tracks Near Clarksburg and Train No. 22 Came Near Being Thrown From the Tracks.

Jesse McNeese, aged 21, and his wife, Mamie McNeese, aged 24, claiming their home to be at Topeka, Kan., are prisoners in the Montean county jail, facing the charge of attempted train wrecking.

McNeese and his wife were arrested by Sheriff John Chaltee, of Montean county, at California, Mo., at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They were taken to the office of prosecuting Attorney Roy L. Kay, where they are alleged to have confessed. Informations charging them with attempted train wrecking were issued by Prosecutor Kay and the prisoners on being arraigned before Justice John Pearson, entered pleas of not guilty.

Preliminary examination was set for Nov. 20, and in default of $1,000 each the prisoners were remanded to jail to await examination.

While traveling at a high rate of speed two miles east of Clarksburg, Mo., Saturday Missouri Pacific train No. 22, eastbound, crashed into a railroad tie, which had been placed on the track evidently to wreck the train.

The huge locomotive did not get derailed; instead it shoved the tie a distance of ten feet, when the train was brought to a stop. The tie was removed.

Proceeding under control, with an eye open for other obstructions, the engineer espied another tie, placed across the track, one mile east of where the first tie had been hit.

The train was stopped in time to prevent a collision. The attempt to wreck the train was reported to the company officials, who immediately notified the secret service department.

Officers at all points along the line were notified and at 3 o'clock last afternoon McNeese and his wife were arrested by Sheriff Chaltee. On being confronted with the evidence they confessed to having placed the ties on the track, so they said, to stop the train in order to ride, having become fatigued from walking.

McNeese claims to have been married at St. Joseph, Mo.

Martin Quinn and W. J. Kemp, secret service officers from this city, left at 4:30 last afternoon for California to secure a confession.

Source of Profit to Women.

Illuminating of documents is a new field of work for women in England, and it might recommend itself as a congenial and profitable employment for women in this country.

Mrs. Hamer-Jackson of London is urging women to take up the work, which she says properly belongs to them. Mi Hamer-Jackson is one of the best illuminators in England. She makes a large income and does all her work at home.

She describes illuminating as an art. Her work is devoted almost exclusively to the decoration of public addresses, books and cards in the fine floral scrolls and designs, often spotted with gold and silver, in the style of the old Anglo-Saxon and Gothic manuscripts.

Mrs. Hamer-Jackson says there is practically unlimited work to be done for private persons. It is her plan to organize a school for the instruction of young women in the work.

TWENTY FIVE APPLY

Many Candidates Being Initiated Into Fidelity Council, K. and L. of S.

The inclement weather did not deter the members of Fidelity council, K. & L. of S., from attending the regular meeting Friday night in the Royal Tribe of Joseph hall, every seat being taken and one of the most enjoyable social sessions of the season being held. A mandolin club furnished music for the dancing after the transaction of the regular routine work, which included the acceptance of twenty-five applications.

The following candidates were initiated during the evening: Paul Gillman, John Vaught, Earl McKenzie, Dr. Guy Tittsworth, Ed T. Zoellg, John H. Bower, C. W. Kemery, Charles Boltz, Mrs. A. McCormick, Misses Edith McDaniels, Viola McDaniels and Mamie Knaus.

MADE THE FISHWOMAN STARE

Questionable Practical Joke That Put Wife in Somewhat Humiliating Position.

Thomas Hood was a confirmed practical joker. In 1827 he was taken ill and went with his wife to Brighton. He was so weak that he had to be lifted into the coach, but on the day following his arrival he allowed himself a jest upon Mrs. Hood. At breakfast fast Hood offered to give his wife a few hints on the buying of fish, on account of his superior experience of the sea. "Above all things, Jane," he said, "as they will endeavor to impose upon your inexperience, let nothing induce you to buy a plaice (a flat, spotted fish), that has any appearance of red or orange spots, as they are sure signs of an advanced stage of decomposition."

Mrs. Hood promised faithful compliance in the innocence of her heart, and accordingly, when the fishwoman came to the door, she descended to show off her newly acquired information. As it happened, the woman had very little except plaice, and these she turned over and over, praising their size and freshness. But the obnoxious red spots on every one of them still greeted Mrs. Hood's dissatisfied eyes. On her hinting a doubt of their freshness, she was met by the assertion that they were not long out of the water, having been caught that morning.

This shook the housewife's doubts, but only for a moment, and remembering Hood's account of the fishwoman's ways, she shook her head, saying: "My good woman, it may be as you say, but I could not think of buying any plaice with those very unpleasant red spots." The woman's answer was short: "Lord bless your eyes, mum. Who ever seed any without 'em!" A suppressed giggle on the stairs betrayed the perpetrator of the joke.

HAD IT IN DUE LEGAL FORM

Banker Unable to Deny Debt That Was Testified To in Black and White.

A southern banker recently told the following about his eight-year-old son. The boy had been invited to spend a week with some little friends in the country. "Stay and keep me company, Jack," said his mother. "Father goes traveling this week, and I shall be all alone. Here is a five-dollar bill for you instead of the visit."

Jack promptly closed with the offer, and the banker as promptly borrowed the five dollars, at current interest, thereby keeping, as he observed when telling the story, both the boy and the money in the family.

Some two months later Jack wanted to recall the loan.

"What five dollars do you mean?" asked the banker.

"Why, the five I gave you."

"I haven't any five dollars."

"But I gave it to you. Mother, didn't I give him five dollars? You saw me."

"I certainly did," she replied.

"Where's your receipt, then?" demanded his father. "Do you mean to say you've been lending money without getting black and white to show for it?"

"Mamie," said the boy, appealing to his nurse, "didn't I give papa five dollars?"

"You pob' little lamb!" indignantly exclaimed the old woman. "Co'se you done gib it to him, honey."

"There, papa," said the budding lawyer triumphantly, "there's the black and white of it."—Delineator.

Western Education in China.

Prof. John Fryer, head of the department of Oriental languages of the University of California and considered one of the foremost Chinese scholars of the world, has returned to his university duties after a tour of inspection of the education system of China. Prof. Fryer declared that the advancement of learning in China was surpassing any similar movement in the world's history.

Education is considered by the Celestials, he said, far above everything else and nothing else is held of like importance. In describing the situation Prof. Fryer said: "It is one of the greatest movements recorded in history. It is wonderful to see how, in only half a dozen years, it has permeated the vast Chinese empire. High, low, rich and poor all alike, are anxious to obtain western learning at any cost."

Nature Must Have No Secrets.

It is a small planet, the astronomers tell us, that has been confided to the race of mortals, and from a cosmic view perhaps none of its concerns are important. Yet long may the delusion exist that man's triumphs are of vast moment—even his attempts to survive all parts of the terrestrial sphere and to leave no secret of geography unlocked. Particularly is it unpermitted to men of science to raise doubts as to whether a bit of new knowledge is worth while. It is the lure of knowledge for its own sake that has kept science ever pressing forward—its motto has been that there is nothing so contemptible that exact precise information concerning it is to be despised.

Then They Clinched.

"I've known Clancy longer th'n you have," asserted Casey.

"Ye're a liar," said Mooney. "I've known him since he was a little boy."

"Is that all?" sneered Casey; "why, I've known him since his father was a little boy!"—Exchange.

CAUGHT A WILD DUCK

Fowl Was "Promenading" Along Main Street Friday.

Will Fruin, a meat cutter for Joseph Paradis, without having a hunter's license, caught a wild duck on West Main street early Friday morning, assisted by Bryan Curran, a meat wagon driver.

The duck is thought to have been injured in some manner, for when first discovered was "promenading" along the bowery. Fruin and Curran espied the fowl and gave chase.

After a four block run the men finally caught the duck, and are now displaying it at Mr. Paradis' meat market.

SHERIFF HENDERSON GETS LETTER

Mrs. W. N. Marshall, of Fayette, is Anxious to Ascertain What Became of the Infant—May Be a Story Later.

M. T. Henderson, sheriff, Saturday received a letter from Mrs. W. N.
Marshall, of Fayette, Mo., asking about a baby girl placed on a doorstep in this city in 1881.

The letter, which follows, is self-explanatory:

"Fayette, Mo., Nov. 9.—Mr. M. T.
Henderson, Sedalia, Mo. Dear Sir:
Please give me information of the sheriff of Pettis county in 1881, if he is living; if not his wife at that time;
give name and address now.

"I am trying to find a child, a girl,
that was placed on a doorstep in Sedalia in the spring of 1881, between April and June.

It was taken by the sheriff and afterwards a home was secured for it.
Any clue to the child's whereabouts is of great importance to her.

Charles Allen and J. West Goodwin, newspaper men of your town, may be able to find papers on file giving account of this child at the time, as it was in the papers.

CIRCUIT COURT ENTRIES

E. C. White Asks Change of Venue in Usury Cases.

The following entries were made on the docket in the Pettis county circuit court Saturday.

Fred Smith, charged with carrying concealed weapons; case continued until January 3, defendant being released on bond, signed by George Arnold.

E. C. White, usury, defendant files application for change of venue on the nine counts.

SHOW THEM YOUR TICKETS

This Will Surely Relieve the German Railway Guard of His Sadness.

Whenever a German railway guard feels lonesome, and does not know what else to do with himself, he takes a walk round the train and gets the passengers to show him their tickets, after which he returns to his box cheered and refreshed. Some people rave about sunsets and mountains and old, old masters, but to the German railway guard the world can show nothing more satisfying, more inspiring, than the sight of a railway ticket.

Nearly all the German railwa-officials have this same craving for tickets. If only they get somebody to show them a railway ticket, they are happy. It seemed a harmless weakness of theirs, and B. and I decided that it would be only kind to humor them in it during our stay.

Accordingly, when we saw a German railway official standing about, looking sad or weary, we went up to him and showed him our tickets. The sight was like a ray of sunshine to him; all his care was immediately forgotten. If we had not a ticket with us at the time, we went and bought one.
A mere single third to the next station would gladden him sufficiently in most cases; but if the poor fellow appeared very woe-begone, and as if he wanted more than ordinary cheering up, we got him a second-class return.

—Jerome K. Jerome, "Diary of a Pilgrimage."

Intelligence in the Kitchen.
The higher the intelligence and the broader the education of the woman in the kitchen, the greater the pleasure and satisfaction in household duties.

The woman who cooks intelligently is commanding great and mysterious forces of nature. She is an alchemist behind an apron. At her command food constituents that are indigestible, unpalatable and even poisonous, are subjected to chemical changes that render them an epicurean delight. The woman of real intelligence and powers of imagination finds in her well ordered kitchen a source of deep enduring interest and pleasure.

REMOVAL SALE!

which begins tomorrow morning will mean more to you and assure you greater savings than any sale you've ever attended in Sedalia—not excepting our Forced-to-Vacate Sale just closed. We're in a serious predicament—in a great big building stocked to its very capacity, we're forced to move.
A smaller room or quit business was our choice; we chose the former because we've got too large a following to leave.

A FRUIT SHOWER

Misses Snell and Brinton Entertained for Miss Myrtle Higgins.

The fruit shower, given Saturday afternoon by Misses Elizabeth Snell and Bess Brinton at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. John L. Murphy, complimentary to Miss Myrtle Higgins, whose marriage to Mr. Louis Buckley is announced for the latter part of November, was a wholly delightful affair enjoyed by about twenty guests. The chief diversion of the afternoon was the contest forming menus for the bride. Mrs. Higgins was awarded the first prize, a pretty picture, and Mrs. Hobercht got the booby prize.

The guests brought fruit of all kinds for the bride-to-be, consisting of canned peaches, pears, jellies and others, which filled a tub. During the afternoon Mr. Buckley, who is possessed of a splendid voice, sang a solo, and Miss Higgins and Miss Hatton performed on the piano. The afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by all present and the event was concluded with the serving of dainty refreshments.

Hollow Mockery.

No mockery in this world ever sounds to me so hollow as that of being told to cultivate happiness. What does such advice mean? Happiness is not a potato in mold and tilted with manure. Happiness is a glory shining far down upon us out of heaven. She is a divine dew which the soul, on certain of its summer mornings, feels dropping upon it from the amaranth bloom and golden fruitage of Paradise.—Charlotte Bronte.

NEWS OF THE RAIL

THE CASE OF CONDUCTOR COOK, WHO IS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY IN MEXICO.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

According to advices received by the Guadalajara division 540, Order of Railway Conductors, of San Antonio, Texas, the case of Conductor James A. Cook will be taken up by the United States government.

Cook is now being held in a Mexican jail on charges connecting him with the robbing of freight cars by Mexican brakemen. He succeeded in bringing his case to the attention of President Taft, through the agency of his order.

His case is now being investigated by the Mexican authorities and a decision is expected within a few days.

The matter, if finally aired through diplomatic intercourse or the American courts, will throw a very instructive light on Mexican law and procedure.

"Spot" Booked for Promotion.

Among the conspicuous frequenters at the M. K. & T. yard office in this city is a unique individual, responding to the cognomen of "Spot."

The individual's given and surname are hidden in mystery to nine-tenths of the employees of the M. K. & T., yet the general makeup and disposition of "Spot" are known by every employee from the superintendent to the section hand.

"Spot" is slated on the payroll as a number catcher, yet he officiates as yardmaster, switch engine foreman, switchman, brakeman, conductor, engineer, fireman, coach cleaner and in various other ways, first being seen at the passenger station, then alternately at the yard office, telegraph office, shops, round house and in fact at every nook and corner of the Katy in the city.

He has many attributes, too numerous to mention, also many disqualifications, likewise too numerous to mention, nevertheless "Spot" is slated for promotion, the nature of which the officials refuse to divulge.

A New Time Card.

Supt. A. J. Alexander, of the Missouri Pacific; Trainmaster C. M. Hunt and Chief Dispatcher B. H. Knapp left last midnight for St. Louis, where with other officials they will assist in compiling a new time card, which will go into effect a week from today.

The Missouri Pacific will install a fast mail train between St. Louis and Kansas City Tuesday, via the main line, which train will be run as an extra until the new card goes into effect.

Hospital Patients Increase

During the first thirteen days of November twenty-five Missouri Pacific employees were treated at the M. K. & T. railway hospital, while 109 company patients were registered at that institution yesterday.

Up to November 13 of this year the total number of patients treated at the M. K. & T. railway hospital was 3,771, as compared with 3,210 for a similar period in 1908, the increase being 561 patients.

Hospital Patients Discharged.

The following patients have been discharged from the M. K. & T. railway hospital:

Phillip Beeler, section, Fayette, Ok.
 Jeff Douglas, section, Carbor, Ok.
 Jack White, extra gang, Fallis, Ok.
 M. French, section, Wybark, Ok.
 A. L. Blankenship, machinists' helper, Parsons, Kas.
 Albert Pratt, extra gang, Croke, Ok.
 J. F. Shepard, painter, Mokane, Mo.
 C. Frazier, coach cleaner, Denison, Texas.
 J. O. Fidler, brakeman, McAlester, Ok.

Missouri Pacific Patients.

The following Missouri Pacific patients were treated at the M. K. & T. railway hospital during the past week.

R. L. Brown, operator, Ingrowing nail.
 Fred Boltger, machinists' helper, wrenched back.

Looking Forward to the Holidays

The big store on the corner making great preparations for the coming holidays.

We have made greater preparations this year for the holiday season than for many years. The increased business during the past few months has encouraged us to buy very largely of FANCY CHINA, BRIC-A-BRAC, FANCY GOODS, GIFT BOOKS, NOVELTIES, TOYS and DOLLS.

In order to make room for the great holiday stock which is now beginning to arrive, we are offering some exceptional bargains in seasonable goods, which, in justice to yourself, you should not neglect seeing before making purchases in these lines.

When we advertise bargains they are always real bargains, so do not confuse this announcement with the many ordinary newspaper advertisements which you read every day.

The continued success of this great store, and our record for bargain offerings is ample assurance that your money will be well spent and your time not wasted if you make your purchases here.

ONE SPECIAL OFFERING FOR A FEW DAYS is only, 12-piece china bed room sets ranging in price from $6.48 to $7.48 per set, which we are offering for ONE-THIRD (1-3) OFF regular price.

ANOTHER SPECIAL OFFERING in decorated dinnerware is two small lots of desirable patterns of American dinnerware, which we are offering for 50c ON THE DOLLAR to close them out.

One lot of extra large, BEAUTIFULLY ENGRAVED globe chimneys, which are often sold for 25c each; our price, 10c each.

One lot of fancy MOSIAC LAMP SHADES, regularly sold for 50c; our price, 25c each.

A special opening holiday offering on GIFT BOOKS for Sunday School classes or other gift purposes, in limited quantities, while they last for 10c each, or $1.00 PER DOZEN.

One special lot of RIBBON REMNANTS at from ONE-THIRD to ONE-HALF OFF our regular price.

One lot of cotton fingered knit wrist gloves, regular 10c goods, at 8c per pair, or two pair for 15c.

One lot of men's heavy fleeced, EXTRA FINE UNDERWEAR, offered elsewhere at 75c per garment; our price, 48c per garment.

The remainder of our BIG STOCK of FINE EMBROIDERY offered at ONE-THIRD (1-3) OFF regular price.

Some special offerings in fleeced lined misses' and ladies' hose that cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

New arrivals in beautiful KID BODY DOLLS with natural hair and moving eyes, at prices ranging from 25c up.

MANY NEW TOYS in wood and iron have already arrived and can be seen in OUR GREAT TOY BASEMENT.

Our candy department is the most attractive place in any section of any store in the city. Better sweets for the money than to be found elsewhere.

Don't forget to visit this mammoth store, as it will be headquarters for everything in the holiday line from now until Christmas morning.

Katy Hospital Arrivals.

The following are new arrivals at the M. K. & T. railway hospital:
 William Hudson, pump repairer, Parsons, Kas.

J. A. Whitten, bridgeman, Luther, Ok.

W. M. Brown, coal heaver, Wagoner, Ok.

Samuel F. Nichols, bridgeman, Greenville, Texas.

J. D. Roe, baggageman, Columbia, Mo.

Will Spend $200,000.

The Missouri Pacific railway will expend about $200,000 in the next few months on terminal improvements in St. Joseph.

A roundhouse, turntable and several miles of tracks will be constructed in the vicinity of the packing houses.

Now a Train Auditor.

Earl Eckhoff, formerly night ticket agent for the M. K. & T. in this city, later holding a more responsible position in the same department at Muskogee, Ok., has been promoted to train auditor by the M. K. & T., and is running out of Hannibal.

Automatic Couplers.

M. K. & T. Brakemen McGown and Wallen are laying off.

Edgar Cole, a Missouri Pacific fireman, returned Saturday from Tip-ton.

D. Stoffel, assistant claim agent for the Katy, made a business visit at Hartsburg, Mo., Saturday.

Pat Downes, an M. K. & T. conductor, is laying off to enjoy a hunt. J. V. Tapp is filling the vacancy.

The Missouri Pacific pay car was here Saturday, local company employees receiving their monthly pay checks.

Martin Quinn, special agent for the Missouri Pacific, returned Saturday from a business visit at Jefferson City.

W. L. McCutcheon, claim agent for the Missouri Pacific, and daughter, went to Pleasant Hill Saturday to visit home folks.

A child of J. F. Holloway, agent for the M. K. & T. at Kansas City

Junction, died there Friday night, and was buried yesterday.

Ranson R. Cable, aged 75, once president of the Rock Island road, died in Chicago Friday, after an illness of a week. His wife and three children survive.

L. W. Mosher, commercial agent for the M. K. & T., and R. M. Garrett, resident engineer for the road, returned Saturday from a business visit at St. Louis.

A union meeting of members of the conductors', engineers', firemen's and trainmen's brotherhoods on the M. K. & T. will be held at the K. of P. hall this afternoon.

Col. John A. Knott and R. H. Oglesby, members of the Missouri Pacific at Independence, Mo., are to be transferred to Jefferson City, where they will make an inspection, trip succeeding J. B. Quinlan, resigned to engage in business at Nevada, Mo.

Conductor Phil Adams is down this week from Sedalia, visiting his brother, Howard, out on Lone Cedar farm in Morgan, and enjoying a few days in hunting.—Otterville Mail.

John Dillon, the M. K. & T. engineer, returned Friday night from Indianapolis, Ind., whither he accompanied his mother, who will make an extended visit with a brother there.

The Pennsylvania road will put on a fast mail train Monday that will make the run from New York to St. Louis in twenty-three hours and forty-seven minutes. The Wabash will carry the mail west from St. Louis to Kansas City.

Col. John A. Knott and R. H. Oglesby, members of the Missouri Pacific at Independence, Mo., are to be transferred to Jefferson City, where they will make an inspection, trip succeeding J. B. Quinlan, resigned to engage in business at Nevada, Mo.

BALL CLUB ENJOINED

Hannibal Team Cannot Play at League Park There.

Hannibal, Mo., Nov. 13.—Judge David H. Eby handed down his decision Friday regarding the injunction filed by Frank Walters and Emma Coffman, pleading that the Hannibal Baseball association be restrained from playing the game at League park.

The decision is sweepingly in favor of plaintiffs, and practically does away with a professional game at the park, in that, under the terms of the injunction, should a baseball be knocked over the fence onto the plaintiff's property, or should a crowd gather in the street about the park entrance or a boy attempt to recover a foul ball from a neighboring yard, the baseball association would be in contempt of court.

A motion in arrest of judgment and to appeal the case to the St. Louis court of appeals was filed last afternoon, and Judge Eby explained and slightly modified the terms of the injunction.

WANTED IN LIONS' CAGE

Came Near to Causing a Sensation at San Antonio.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.
San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 13.—With a heavy cargo of rum aboard, a strange man made it his momentary mission in life to open a cage containing six lions at the International fair grounds.

The man had just succeeded in loosening the fastenings of the door of the cage when an attendant discovered him. In the lively scuffle that ensued, the drunk got the worst of it.

The man claimed to have sought ingress into the cage for the purpose of taking a nap. What would have happened had the beasts gained their liberty and ran amuck the thousands of visitors in the grounds is not pleasant to contemplate.

WOMAN SAVED AN ARMY

Tapped Wires and Kept the French From Being Annihilated.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

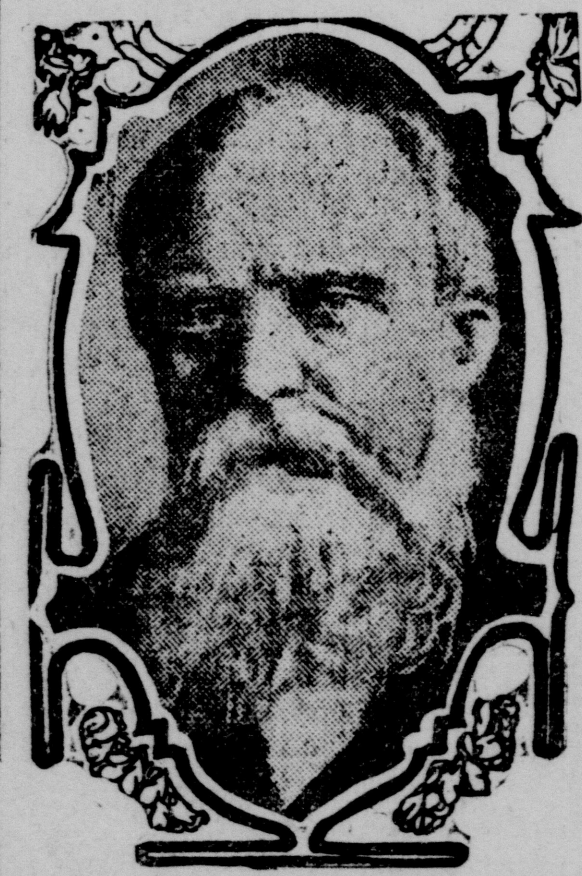

Paris, Nov. 13.—A woman who saved an army has died here, in the person of Mlle. Lucie Dodu.

In 1870 she was a telegraph operator at Pithiviers, when she discovered that Marshal Bazaine's army was in danger of annihilation by the Bavarian army under Prince Frederick Charles.

By tapping the German wires, the brave telegraph girl was able to warn the French general in time.

For her services to the nation, Mlle. Dodu received the military medal and was afterwards decorated with the Legion of Honor.

He May Be Exiled.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—Nicholas Tschaikovsky, the Russian revolutionary leader, who next month will be placed on trial on charges of complicity in acts of terrorism and conspiracy to overthrow the government. The maximum penalty, if he is convicted, is exile for life or eight years penal servitude.

The Green Ridge Local News says a large number of people there will attend the Dr. Torrey meetings in Sedalia within the next few days.

THE LOVE OF GOD

DR. TORREY TOLD OF IT AT THE TABERNACLE SERVICE ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

FINE SOLO SANG BY MR. BUTLER

It Was the Gospel Hymn, "The Ninety and Nine"—Evangelist Says the Bible Is Simply Love Story of Almighty.

MORE SPARKS.

Mr. Butler was married March 31, 1909.

During the mission in Melbourne, Australia, there were 5,000 people in this country praying for the mission. No wonder Dr. Torrey had such results.

From Sedalia the evangelists go to Grand Rapids, Michigan.

This revival is good for business. Dr. Torrey insists on Christians paying their debts at the stores.

Our public library is up to date. They have secured several of the books written by Dr. Torrey.

Whether a man has religion or not, courtesy should prompt him to support by his presence the distinguished guest in our midst. Have you any civic pride? Then stand by your ministers and come every night.

The receipts for the last circus held in Sedalia for one day would finance at least four revivals like the one in progress.

When the mail man does not bring a letter from Mrs. Butler, a certain leader of song immediately "hikes" to the postoffice to see the reason why.

Billy Sunday and Charlie Butler are old friends. Mr. Butler has had charge of the chorus work in several of the Sunday revivals.

[The management of the Democrat-Sentinel desires to inform its readers that the splendid reports of the Dr. Torrey evangelistic meetings that have appeared in its columns the past week, and will continue to appear until the meetings close on December 5, are prepared and brought to the office by the Rev. Harold Cooper, the popular young pastor of the First Congregational church. These reports speak for themselves. They are written in a style that brings out boldly all of the strongest points made by Dr. Torrey at the tabernacle each night, together with notes of interest connected with the services, presented by Rev. Cooper in the most entertaining manner possible. Truly is Rev. Cooper doing a splendid work in behalf of the Master, not only in the pulpit, but by his writings in the columns of the Democrat-Sentinel, for which latter service the management desires to publicly extend its thanks.—Ed.]

Of all the services of the revival now in progress at the tabernacle the one held Friday night was the best in the manifestation of results. The tide is surely and steadily rising, and there is every indication of a great meeting.

A feature of the service which will never be forgotten by those present was the solo sung by Mr. Butler after the sermon. It was the old Gospel hymn, "The Ninety and Nine," and if Mr. Sankey could have heard it he would have been astonished himself. It was a sermon from the heart of the singer, and it went right home to the hearts of those present.

To say that Mr. Butler is a great singer will not describe it. He is a great minister of the Gospel, and he is greatly used of God, as he sings out with his clear, fascinating voice the story of the Gospel. The whole audience was stirred to its depths during this solo, and many were those who said they had never heard anything like this before. Some men can only do one thing, but Mr. Butler can lead a chorus in a masterly way. In Mr. Young he has a worthy assistant, and when Mr. Young reaches the high notes the people sit up and take notice.

ture of the movement is the great number of people who are meeting every day and praying for the work. It is estimated that hundreds are gathering in the homes of the community and earnestly seeking the blessing of God upon our city. At the service Friday night Dr. Torrey announced that next Wednesday and Thursday he would preach on special topics, which will be of great interest to all the men of the city.

The workers were made glad Friday night by the apparent results which were manifest. When the invitation was given, a large number came to the front and publicly confessed Christ as their Savior. As Dr. Torrey spoke to these it was marked that he believed in thoroughness. There was no slipshod way of dealing with them. They were made to realize that this was a great step that they were taking, and were urged to take it thoughtfully and scripturally. The way of life was explained by the doctor, which was remarkably clear.

Whenever the offering has been asked for there has been a great deal of amusement. If there is such a thing as hilarious giving we have been having it at the tabernacle. There are a number of Sedalia laymen who ought to go on the lecture platform as wits. Mr. E. E. Johnston took the offering Friday night, and as the people dropped their money in the pans Mr. Johnston unconsciously kept time with his hands.

The subject at this service was "The Love of God." Only a short outline of it can be given here, but that it was effective was seen by the large number that responded to the invitation. Following is the outline of the sermon.

"The Love of God."
"God Is Love."—I John 4:6.
My subject is the greatest sentence that was ever written. Of course, that sentence is in the Bible. The Bible has a way of putting more into a single sentence than other writers can put in a whole book. This sentence has in it but three words. Each word is a monosyllable, "God is love." That sums up the whole contents of the Bible. The Bible is simply God's love story, the story of the love of God to a sinful world. There is mighty power in that one short sentence, power to break the hardest heart, power to reach individual men and women who are sunk down in sin, and to lift them up until they are fit for a place beside the Lord Jesus Christ upon the throne.

What does the Bible tell us as to how God shows His love? God shows his love by pardoning sin. God tells us plainly in His Word that He is willing to forgive any sinner that lives, no matter how deep down he has gone, if he will only turn from sin and turn to Him; and He will forgive him the very moment he does so. God shows His love by taking account of sin and punishing it. God suffers when you and I are punished; but He loves us so much that when we need to suffer He administers the suffering Himself. Are you in sorrow? It is because God loves you. Are there some here resisting the entreaties of God's mercy and grace? I beseech you to repent. I tremble for some men and women, for those who

PICTURE POSTCARD

CONTAINING FIVE WORDS MAY BE SENT IN FRANCE FOR A HALF PENNY.

REVOLUTIONIZE THE POSTOFFICE

Music Hall Manager Prosecuted for Alleged Improper Advertisement of a Show—Ruse of Soldiers Failed.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

BY GEORGES DUFRENSE.

Paris, Nov. 13.—Our new postmaster general, M. Millerand, who was once a socialist, is revolutionizing the postoffice. From Jan. 1, next, the time required for obtaining a money order will be reduced from an average of forty-six minutes to perhaps less than half that time.

Moreover, one may now send with a half penny stamp a picture postcard containing actually five words, and in those five words you may say anything you like, barring, of course, libel; whereas, until M. Millerand came, the face words had to be merely complimentary.

Finally, the postoffice cheque system is to be introduced. The cautious French mind has never taken easily to cheques, but government cheques at any rate will be above suspicion. At any postoffice customers will be able to open a banking account on the usual lines. Money orders will thus be done away with in the case of all persons having such accounts.

The judicial mind has its mysteries, which it is not the layman's task to penetrate. Proceedings were begun against a music hall manager for publishing an alleged improper advertisement of a show. It represented a bevy of ladies whom the public prosecutor considered to have been portrayed in an insufficiently clothed state. The case came on and the prosecution proved its argument. It was enough to look at the incriminating poster.

So far the defendant had held his tongue, but his counsel now got up and triumphantly rebutted the charge. He proved conclusively that the alleged improper poster was an exact photograph of a scene played nightly in his client's hall. The prosecution acknowledged this to be a fact. The scene in question had been permitted by the police, and anyone could see it that very evening for a shilling. An exact photograph of a scene which the police had not deemed improper could not be called improper. The argument seemed unanswerable and counsel sat down and awaited his client's acquittal.

The court answered it very decisively, however, and amazed the defendant by convicting him and fining him $60. The principle and precedent laid down were that a scene played by flesh and blood supers on the stage may be proper, while its exact reproduction by photograph may be detrimental to good morals.

A telegram from Montpelier gives particulars of a strange ruse which a soldier named Giron employed in order to secure his discharge. When he arrived at Beliers he declared that he was suffering from sleeping sickness. He was placed under observation and kept without food or drink for forty-eight hours. Neither injections nor baths were effective in arousing the soldier from his lethargy.

It was then decided to discharge him. The schemer, filled with joy at the prospect of his release from military service, wrote a letter to his parents, boasting of the "trick" he had played on the majors.

The letter was seized, and Giron, now completely awake, was transferred from the hospital to a cell.

Morocco is, we are told by experts, teeming with mineral riches. An immediate result of the act of Algeiras was the creation of a select committee, representing England, France, Spain and Germany, to draft a scheme of Moroccan mining legislation.

Muley Hafid had all along been opposed to granting concessions to would-be exploiters, and now we are told by the Marquis de Segonzac, a recognized authority in Moroccan matters, that the sultan, by special firman, has conceded to four German brothers named Mannesmann the working of mineral deposits in no fewer than 600 places, covering the whole territory of Morocco, the Rif included.

On the score that a friend in need is a friend indeed, the Mannesmanns had lent Muley Hafid a lot of money at a critical moment, until the total amount of the sultan's indebtedness reached two million marks.

On the surface the French are making light of the whole matter, but in reality they are very much disturbed, more especially as the Berliner Tageblatt thinks there is something in it. The point to learn is, when did Muley give his firman? Was it before the Franco-German accord of last February or after? If before, then the attitude of the German government will be the same. If afterwards, then it is quite possible, considering the importance of the material interests concerned, that there may be complications.

I can find no real authority for the statements published abroad that the French are about to build four Dreadnaughts of 22,000 tons each. Four out of the six Dantons are yet unfinished, and are likely to be for the next eighteen months. There are two new armour plated cruisers in the same condition. Most of the credits for ship building next year will be spent in torpedoes and destroyers.

The fact is, anything in the shape of a naval program must be the subject of a special law. It is the new rule and will not be departed from. It should also be remembered that henceforth the plans of new ships will be prepared in their entirety before the project of the law is submitted. Half of the scandals complained of in the French navy were the result of fragmentary, disjunctive and inconsequent plan making. I am aware that the minister of marine and the prime minister are putting their heads together to devise something. But there is no scheme to the front; no great movement of opinion urging naval construction; no government promises. It could scarcely be otherwise, seeing the difficulty of meeting the annual expenditure of the country.

In Parisian aristocratic circles the abdication of King George, of Greece, is looked upon as a settled thing. What is more, it is regarded as certain he will take up his residence in La Ville Lumiere. He is already Parisian to his finger tips and for years has annually sojourned in Paris, where he has enjoyed every moment of his visit. He generally stays at the Hotel Bristol and occupies the same grand suite which is always reserved for Pierpont Morgan.

PASSION IN BOOKS

THIS IS SAID OF JOHN BURNS, PRESIDENT OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

HE READS AFTER HIS DAY'S LABOR

Still Remains Silent on the Budget, and in Consequence His Battersea Constituents Are Becoming Impatient.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 13.—Mr. John Burns, president of the local government board, is spending every moment that he can spare from his arduous labors in the collection of books—his mastering passion in life.

He may be seen at least twice a week in the Charing Cross road about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after he has partaken of a frugal lunch, poring over the old books in the outside stalls of the many dealers in that thoroughfare.

His three great masters are Shakespeare, Carlyle and Ruskin; and not long ago he purchased an early Shakespeare folio for a price which represented about an eighth of his entire salary as a cabinet minister.

Last week, during one of his rambles in the Charing Cross road, he came across an interesting little bundle of rather rare Ruskin pamphlets. Although he much coveted them himself, he did not purchase them, but wrote, instead, to the chief librarian of the Camberwell public library, in which institution he takes a great interest, and informed them that the pamphlets were going cheap and should be bought.

This particular public library has made a great feature of Ruskin's works; and many workmen in its humble district may be seen any evening wrestling with the publications of that master.

When John Burns moved from his very unpretentious little home on Lavender hill to a slightly larger dwelling around the corner he took all his precious books in his arms and made something like fifty journeys before the removal of the library was completed.

Even when he gets home late, after a tiring day in the house of commons, he picks up a book—probably on French or German history—and reads a few chapters. His wife remains what she always was, a cheerful, homely woman, who does the work of the house, and looks upon her husband with profound reverence.

Burns still remains silent on the budget, and his Battersea constituents are becoming more and more impatient. Meanwhile both political parties are waiting for his first public speech with almost feverish anxiety. One thing is certain—Burns has cut himself off from the socialists as represented by Mr. Keir Hardie.

PROCLAMATION

We desire all our customers to know that we sell and recommend the famous, genuine ROUND OAK STOVE.

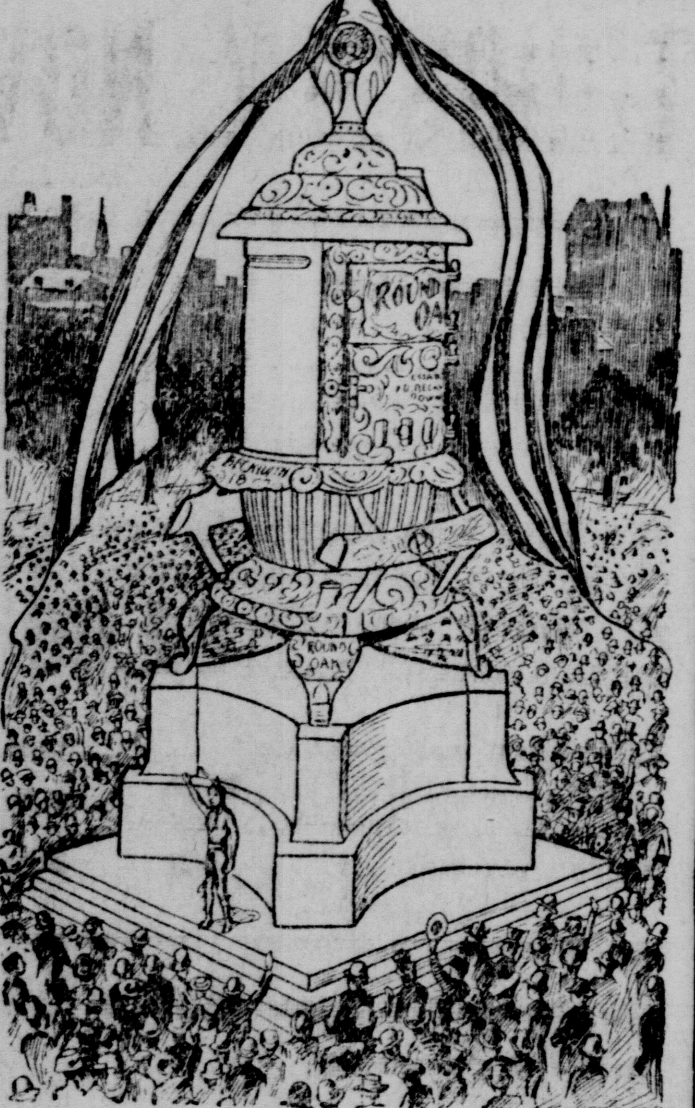

If there ever had been made an imitation of this stove that was better, we would probably handle it—and give the Round Oak the "icy mit." But No! there never has been a heating stove its equal.

It is an old timer and true—thirty-eight years on the market and yet it is strictly up-to-date. Handsome, clean cut, beautifully, well and thoroughly made—never has it had to take a back seat, but has been always at the head of the procession in sales and popularity.

Call and see it. Ask us to make good all our claims for this good, true, original stove. Then see how easy we do it.

HERMANN KLEIN, TEACHER AND CRITIC, GIVES HIS CANDID OPINION.

WITH THE ARTISTS AND AUDIENCES

No Matter if Native Born, Must Have the Approval of Foreigners Before They Are Received With Open Arms.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 13.—Hermann Klein, formerly well known in London as a music teacher and critic, but who for seven years has lived in America, has been given a London audience his candid opinion of conditions in the musical world of New York. Mr. Klein called his address "The Truth About Music in America."

Dealing first with artists and audiences, the conclusion he had arrived at was that the former, especially if native, must have the stamp of foreign approval. Then the nation became proud of them.

The attitude of audiences was courteous and spontaneous, but it was not critical. Their enthusiasm was for what a thing ought to be rather than for what it is. Their criticism was always a process of comparison, and superlatives were applied alike to all classes of performance.

When M. Saint-Saens, Herr Mahler, and Dr. Strauss visited America reference was made to the true modesty of Saint-Saens, the false modesty of Mahler and the immodesty of Strauss.

BRADLEY "HIKE"

THE EXPERIENCE OF A SEDALIA MAN WHO WENT AUTO-MOBILE RIDING.

TOOK TRIP DOWN IN HENRY COUNTY

But the Rain Fell in Torrents, Making Necessary the Housing of the Auto, Hence Mr. Bradley's Sad Experience.

Our sympathy in large, round chunks is proffered to H. L. Bradley, of Sedalia, says Friday's Clinton Democrat.

Thursday Mr. Bradley reached Deepwater in his automobile with several friends, and leaving his party there to take a train for Kansas City, he started for Clinton in his machine.

But alas and alack for the Grand river bottoms, with the treacherous mudholes strewn in the road that yawn for the reckless rider. Mr. Bradley's machine chug-chugged into one of these that buried it up to the tounneau.

And then the rains descended and the floods came and beat upon that automobile.

Finally, a near by farmer with his sturdy team yanked the gasoline cart out of the mire and housed it in his barn.

Mr. Bradley would hurry to Sedalia that night, so steering his course by Clinton lights faintly twinkling in the distance, and receiving verbal instructions, he set out.

The four long miles of clinging mud were slowly, sadly measured, for Mr. Bradley wore low shoes, which found every puddle.

Down in steady patter beat the pitiless rain. Reaching the southwest edge of town, he turned west, as per directions; but instead of then turning north, he kept on, skirting the town, and floundered below the White Swan mills.

It was 7 o'clock when he started on his memorable hike; it was 11 when a friendly hotel housed him, bedraggled, miserable.

And how much mud and misery did those four hours hold for a man with low shoes!

HAVE YOU A HOOK WORM?

In This Country 2,000,000 People Have the Disease.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 13.—Addressing the Medical Association of the Southwest on the subject, Dr. F. D. Boyd, of Fort Worth, said that according to the best data available, no less than 2,000,000 people in this country suffer from the hook worm disease.

Dr. Boyd said that although there were no reliable statistics to prove this definitely, there was little doubt that the number of persons afflicted with this trouble would reach that stupendous figure.

Hook worms and pellagra have received a great deal of attention at the sessions of the convention. A paper on appendicitis read by Dr. J. N. Jackson demonstrated that many pass under the knife annually although not suffering from this disease at all. Dr. Jackson advises a closer study of the true symptoms of appendicitis and more careful diagnosis.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—Grand Duke Alexis Nicolaievitch, the only son of the "Little Father" of all the Russians, is the only person in all the czar's empire to whom the successor of Peter the Great is subject. To his little boy he is a meek and abject slave, although to countless millions he is a tyrant. The picture is from the latest photograph of the little boy, at whose command the czar will drop affairs of state to give the child a ride "pick-a-pack," a sport of which the young grand duke is very fond.

The ladies of Sacred Heart Catholic church met at the parochial residence Friday afternoon to arrange preliminary plans for a progressive euchre to be given at the school hall on Thursday afternoon, November 18. Three beautiful prizes will be awarded the winners.

ENDS KIDNEY BACKACHE

JUST A FEW DOSES WILL MAKE KIDNEYS ACT FINE, ENDING A LAME BACK.

PAPE'S DIURETIC IS ALWAYS EFFECTIVE

The Most Severe Bladder and Urinary Misery Simply Vanishes—Hundreds of Men and Women Here Are Needlessly Miserable.

Out-of-order kidneys act fine and backache or bladder misery is relieved after a few doses of Pape's Diuretic. Pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, debilitating headache, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, wornout feeling and many other symptoms of clogged, inactive kidneys simply vanish.

Frequent, painful and uncontrollable urination due to a weak or irritable bladder is promptly overcome.

The moment you suspect any kidney, bladder or urinary disorder, or feel rheumatism coming, begin taking this harmless remedy, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure, as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

This unusual preparation goes direct to the out-of-order kidneys, bladder and urinary system, cleaning, healing and strengthening these organs and glands, and completes the cure before you realize it.

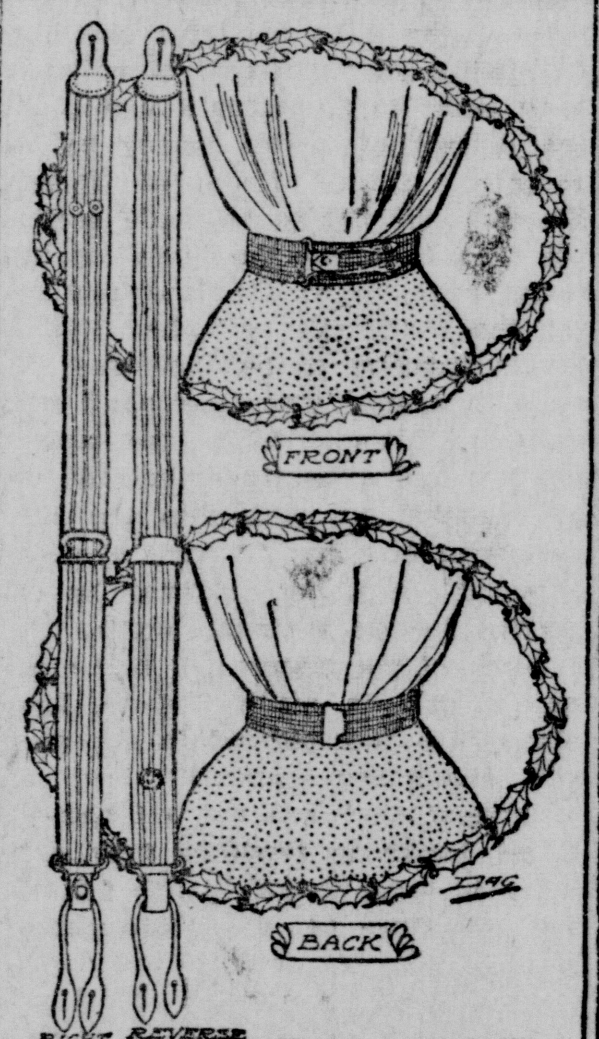

A few days' treatment with Pape's Diuretic means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

The Suspender Belt.

The suspender belt illustrated is a novelty that any girl would appreciate as a little Christmas remembrance. And as for making, there is little to be done once a pair of silk suspenders are purchased and ripped apart where they are crossed in the back. Two small sized buttons are sewed on one end of the belt the required size to be looped by the buttonholes in the kid washbone-like shaped part of the sus-

OF BLUE SILK. pender, and on the other underside of the belt a single button is sewed to the elastic. This button fastens the belt into position, the overlapping part with the kid end being really only for ornament. As may be supposed, a light colored pair of suspenders are the best selection. Pale blue, for instance, with white kid trimmings, are dainty, but for actual service the darker tones are naturally better. A plaid or striped suspender belt would be stunning.

CLUB FOR ALDRICH

THIS IS POSSIBLE WHEN HE AD-DRESSES NEW YORKERS ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

CITY HALL CORNER STONE LAYING

Mayor-Elect Gaynor Not to Have the Honor of Presiding if Mayor Mc-Clellan Can Prevent It—The Astor Divorce Case.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Nov. 13.—United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, who has been lately engaged in attempting to convince the westerners of the merits of his panacea for financial ills, will get the heckling of his life when he appears before the New York Chamber of Commerce next Thursday night. Not that the commercial interests of the metropolis have any great dislike for the distinguished son of "Little Rhody." Far from it. They love him as a man and a brother, but they have some pet ideas of their own which they desire to bring to the attention of the chairman of the national monetary commission.

When Mr. Aldrich arises to address the members of the Chamber of Commerce he will almost certainly be asked to explain what he and his commission think of the chamber's "plan" submitted by its currency commission three years ago and approved by it. The plan proposed, first, the creation of a central bank of issue—something like the old Bank of the United States—based on the system of the Bank of Germany and the Bank of France; such bank to deal exclusively with banks; its stock to be owned in part by banking institutions and in part by the government; but in its management representatives of the government to be supreme; this central bank to issue currency, rediscount for other banks, hold public money and act as agent for the government in redeeming its paper money and making its disbursements.

As an alternative to this, the chamber's plan proposed that additional powers of note issue be granted to national banks whose bond secured circulation amounts to at least 50 per cent of their total capital; these credit notes to pay a graduated tax, ranging from 2 per cent to 6 per cent; the proceeds of this graduated tax to constitute a guaranty fund, in the custody of the government, for redemption of the notes of failed banks; redemption agencies to be established in order to insure the prompt retirement of these credit notes when no longer needed; all the notes to be alike in form; the law restricting the retirement of national bank notes to $3,000,000 a month by the deposit of lawful money to be repealed; future issue of United States bonds not to be made available as a basis for the issue of national bank notes; the laws regulating the operations of the United States treasury to be amended in such a manner that they shall not, as now, interfere with the money market; and a law to be enacted requiring that all money in the general fund of the treasury above a reasonable working balance be deposited in the national banks.

Some of the features of this alternative plan, in modified form, have since been incorporated in the present "emergency currency" law, an enactment that has not set the national banks to tumbling over each other in order to get in line for taking advantage of the "emergency" provisions.

Judge Gaynor, mayor-elect of New York, is not to have the honor of presiding at the laying of the cornerstone of the new municipal building. Not if Mayor George B. McClellan can prevent it, and he thinks he can. The present executive of the city has an ambition to have his own cognomen read by future generations on the enduring cornerstone of the handsome edifice.

Throughout the last McClellan administration the project of erecting a building at the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn bridge, where most of the city offices may be installed and the city saved a vast sum in rents, has woefully lagged. For almost two years the public has been made to suffer because of the dilatory manner in which this great improvement has been managed.

For this reason a vast amount of work must still be done if the laying of the cornerstone by Mayor McClellan will not appear ludicrously

Princess Victoria.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 13.—Princess Victoria of Wales, who is called "Her Royal Shyness," instead of highness, has been enjoying a prolonged holiday in Denmark and Norway, where rigid adherence to the simple life has completely restored her health, which had been shattered by numerous breakdowns due to the ordeals of state functions, which to her are a nightmare. In Norway she visited Queen Maud, her sister, who is lively and full of fun, and the favorite daughter of King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

premature. The extra expense in rushing the job so that he himself may spread the official mortar will in itself amount to a considerable figure. Furthermore, as the mayor is also said to desire an imposing ceremony, the cost of this eleventh hour spectacle is likely to reach a total of $50,000.

After next Monday it is going to cost a lot more to hand your enemies a lemon. The transcontinental railroads, which have raised the freight rates on the sour fruit, is responsible for this condition of affairs. The new schedule becomes effective Monday, and the Italian vendors are up in arms.

Under the present freight arrangements, rates on lemons from California points to eastern points are 15 cents a hundred pounds less than the rates on oranges and other citrus fruits. The present freight concession to lemons was made by the transcontinental carriers because of an alleged disposition on the part of the Pacific fruit growers to relinquish the lemon market, their argument being that they could not compete successfully with the European and the West Indian growers at the rates then prevailing. The rate on lemons therefore was reduced to a point 15 cents lower a hundred pounds than was charged for other citrus fruits from the Pacific coast.

The carriers now assert that the rate on lemons is too low and the notice of an advance has therefore been given.

New York commission men assert that the action of the railroads may result in a great increase in the importation of lemons from Europe and the West Indies.

The suffrage sisterhood of Gotham, hearing a cry for help from the wilds of South Dakota, will respond next Wednesday evening by holding a large mass meeting in Carnegie hall. The proceeds will be used to advance the suffrage cause in the western state, where a constitutional amendment, giving women the ballot, will be voted on next year.

This is the first time in its history of forty years that the National Woman Suffrage association has given its influence to such a public meeting. Now the women are alive to the fact that if they are to engage in practical politics, in competition with the men a "barrel" is needed. Having reached this point the time when all women will vote is only a matter of a few years.

No scandal in high life ever attracted so much attention in New York as that in which John Jacob Astor and his beautiful wife are involved. The public airing of the domestic differences of the Astors came as a complete surprise, except to those intimate with the estranged couple, who had long expected a break in their relations.

The greatest sympathy is expressed in social circles for the children of the warring couple. William Vincent Astor, the son, who will be 13 years of age day after tomorrow, and has just entered Harvard, is said to feel keenly the stigma which has attached to the family name. The daughter, Ava Alice Muriel, is only 7, and is too young to be deeply affected by family troubles, the injury of a favorite doll being of far greater importance to her infantile mind. Mrs. John Jacob Astor was the daughter of Edward Shippen Willing, of moderately well to do, but very old and proud Philadelphia Quaker family. The wedding was not ostentatious, the only special feature being a special train, carrying a few invited guests from New York. Otherwise the ceremony was as modest and inexpensive as a thousand others among people of very ordinary station.

There would have been a good excuse for magnificent or lavish display, because it united the head of one of the richest families in America with one of the proudest and most beautiful women in this country. It is said that even on the day of days, when for once in her life, no matter what her station, a woman is queen of the world and should be the happiest, the bride betrayed little joy. It was whispered then, not that she loved anyone else, but that she was rather simply indifferent to the man to whom she was being married.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE

IT IS CREATING A GREAT SENSATION IN MANY LOCALITIES.

Many people are now going to Wilcox's drug store to learn all they can of the new remedy that is creating so much talk and newspaper comment. Scores of people throughout the state have been cured by the remedy within the past few months, and testimonials continue to be received from every direction in rapid succession. Here in Sedalia and vicinity numbers of people are taking the remedy and many of them are praising it very highly, although they have been using it but a short while. While the demonstrations were being conducted at Greensburg, Ind., J. W. Boyle, of 116 East Washington street, said: "My wife has been using Root Juice and it is doing wonders for her. Before taking the remedy she had a very bad stomach. The lightest food would sour on her stomach and cause it to burn and pain her very much; in fact, she said it felt like it was raw from top to bottom. Recently her trouble was aggravated by an attack of the la grippe. Her appetite was very poor, but after taking the juice for a few days her appetite returned and she now digests everything she eats without the least pain or inconvenience. She is no longer weak and nervous, but seems like a new woman. The remedy has proved a wonderful blessing to her." In fact, so many people are talking about the new remedy and telling of so much wonderful good it is doing, that people are going to Wilcox's drug store in numbers to get some of the wonderful medicine.

MAYRENT STREETS

TO THE DETROIT UNITED RAILWAYS COMPANY FOR SUM OF $300 A DAY.

FRANCHISES EXPIRE TOMORROW

The New Scheme Does Not Involve Municipal Ownership, and is Nothing More or Less Than Ground Rent.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Detroit, Nov. 13.—Under a resolution passed by the council, the streets of this city are to be rented to the Detroit United Railways at a cost to the company of $300 a day.

Several of the franchises under which the traction company has operated expire tomorrow, and the city legislators have taken advantage of this to assert the absolute proprietorship of the city in the streets and its natural landlord right to charge a rental therefor.

The resolution takes advantage of the provision of the new constitution which denies to city railways the power to operate without a franchise from the city.

The new scheme does not involve municipal ownership, and neither does it assert or lean toward any city ownership of the street car plant, but only of the streets in which the rails are placed. In short, it is roth-ing more or less than a form of ground rent.

After tomorrow the Detroit United, which is the only traction line in the city, will have no legal right to run a single five-cent line anywhere within the city limits, excepting as may be conferred on them by the contemplated resolution.

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or capicum nor alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure the dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation, or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insidious germ that dries up the scalp in little scales called dandruff, and absorbs the vitality of the hair, causing falling hair, and finally baldness. SPLIT IN THE NAVY

THIS REFERS TO OUR BRITISH BROTHERS AND NOT TO UNITED STATES.

SIR JOHN FISHER IS THE CAUSE

The Belief Is Growing That He Is to Retire After Receiving a Peerage—His Successor May Be Fawkes.

Special Cable from the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 13.—The rumor that Sir John Fisher, the powerful first sea lord, was about to retire, was started about a year ago by his enemies, who can be counted in the service by their thousands; but there is now every reason to believe that "Jack" Fisher is really meditating retirement after receiving a peerage.

For the past few years he has enjoyed the intimate friendship of the king, but his autocratic rule at the admiralty has caused bitter dissension in the navy, which is still split up into two cliques—the Fisher and the Lord Charles Beresford group.

The recent announcement of the formation of a naval war board, which would prevent "one man rule" in the navy, is the direct outcome of private talks between the king and Sir John Fisher. The king is heartily tired of the bickering in the navy because of Sir John, and the latter, who is certainly nothing if he is not patriotic, believes that the best way of ending the trouble is to vacate his post in favor of someone who is more generally popular in the service.

At the service club members have already settled the matter among themselves, and the general opinion is that Admiral Sir Wilmot Fawkes will be the next first sea lord. Sir William has had great experience at the admiralty, is personally very popular and does not belong to either of the two cliques.

The most serious question in the navy just now is the shortage of men. Sir John Fisher's "nucleus crew" scheme has degenerated into a farce. It is now an open secret that the "Inflexible," which was so admired in New York, could not have attempted a record on her way home, even if her commander had wished, as she was far too short handed. Everyone of the big ships in the British navy, and especially the Dreadnaughts, are hopelessly undermanned in spite of the repeated warnings issued by officers of the admiralty.

AMUSEMENTS

"Babes in Toyland."

"Babes in Toyland" comes to Wood's opera house Thursday evening with all the elaborate production of this great metropolitan success, which played consecutively for one year and a half in New York and over one year in Chicago.

While described as an operatic extravaganza, "Babes in Toyland" is a name which indicates admirably by its vague suggestion that something unusual will occur in the course of the entertainment. Despite the indefinite character of the title, there was no question as to the definite character of the hit made by the clever company of capable comedians. The principals and chorus are combinations of jests and frivolity, fun and jollity, which not only gives all a good chance, but shows also the remarkable skill of Mr. Julian Mitchell in designing and presenting song and dance ensembles highly artistic in color, scheme and execution.

The book and lyrics are the work of Glen MacDonough, and both are replete with clean, clever humor. Mr. Victor Herbert, who gave us the "Wizard of Oz," and other tuneful operatic successes, has even exceeded his former work and contributed some very ambitious music of a charming character, of a light and spirited nature, yet extremely tuneful and pleasing. The mountings are very handsome and the costuming, groupings and stage pictures in the best of taste, the dresses being notably picturesque and artistic in design. The entire original production will be given here as used in New York and Chicago.

The company is headed by Ignazio Martinetti, in his original role of "Alan," and such other well known artists as Helen McLeod, Gus Pixley, Marie Radcliffe, John P. Ward, Marie Malatesta, Leon Mayo, Ida Ward, Ollie Dignes, Norma Cameron, Violet Clifford, Amy Thropp, Virgie Burrows, Ethel Vernon, Lavinia Ed and a chorus of beautiful show girls and bewitching choristers who are supreme in vocalism.

NOTES OF LIBRARY

LIST OF THE NEW BOOKS THAT WERE RECEIVED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

SOME WORKS OF REV. TORREY

They Are Especially Interesting at This Time, When the Renowned Evangelist Is Laboring In Queen of the Prairies.

In the appended list of new books at the library the past week there are some of special interest. First, those of Dr. Torrey and the one by Davis about Dr. Torrey's and Mr. Alexander's great work. These are especially interesting at this time, when we have Dr. Torrey with us.

Then we have the 1909 session acts of the legislature of Missouri, and have a copy promptly because of a bill passed at the last meeting of the legislature, that by the application of the librarian to the secretary of state a copy be provided each public library in the state. This is very much appreciated by libraries, as there has never been a special provision made before. The revised statutes will be received later.

The last department of agriculture year book has also been received.

Following is a list of the new books:

Andrews—Perfect Tribute.
Byrns—Progress of Invention in the Nineteenth Century.
Davis—Torrey and Alexander.
Dealey—Development of the State.
Eliot—Education for Efficiency.
Farmer—Boston Cooking School Cook Book.
Johnson—Songs Every One Should Know.
Hill—Cooking for Two.
Locker-Lampson—London Lyrics.
Lucas—Wanderer in Paris.
Missouri—Legislature Laws, 1901, 1903, 1905.
Rafferty—An Introduction to the Science of Radio-Activity.
Reed—How to Cook Vegetables.
Shaler—Autobiography.
Torrey—How to Bring Man to Christ.
Torrey—What the Bible Teaches.
U. S. Agriculture, Dept. of — Year Book, 1908.
New Juvenile:
Aspinwall—Short Stories for Short People.
Burrell—Saturday Mornings.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

Cancer Cured

Recent government statistics show that deaths from cancer is on the increase and bids fair to out-rank that most deadly of all diseases—consumption. Indeed, if all deep seated and internal obscure conditions that people die from were correctly chronicled, cancer might now head the list. That our New System of Treatment cures cancer without pain or cutting, we herewith submit absolute proof:

CANCER OF THE NOSE BEFORE TREATMENT.

Mr. A. D. Rowles

Mr. Rowles is an influential citizen of Ochiltree, Texas. He came to us on the 6th day of October, suffering with a cancer on the end of the nose, an exceedingly difficult place to treat any one; requiring great care, owing to the construction of the tissues. But we are pleased to say that his cancer yielded nicely to our new system of treatment and in a few days it came out and healed up inside of one month. Mr. Rowles came a long way to take our new cure for cancer, and we are pleased to say that he was not disappointed, and he feels very thankful for our great achievement.

MR. A. D. ROWLES.

Dr. Casto, Chief Physician of the Dr. Casto Medical Co., Sedalia, Mo.

I came over five hundred miles to be treated by you for cancer of the nose. I formerly resided in Cooper county, Mo., but am now a resident of Ochiltree, Texas. You are a master specialist of great skill and your new discovery for the cure of cancer is certainly a boon to mankind. It is a great pleasure and satisfaction for me to be able to recommend your treatment to all who are afflicted as I was, for you took my cancer out without pain or cutting and my nose has all healed up. Hoping this may be the means of acquainting some poor sufferer of your great work.

I am yours, most truly,

A. D. ROWLES, Ochiltree, Tex.

THE PHENOMENAL SUCCESS.

The phenomenal success and wonderful cures of cancer, tumors and malignant growths now being made by Dr. Casto, Chief Physician of the Dr. Casto Medical Co., has attracted wide attention. Patients come from other states to avail themselves of his services and after they take the treatment they gladly come forward and willingly announce the results for the benefit of others who may suffer. Come to us in time and you can be restored to health. Our charges are reasonable; our consultation free.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT
(State of New York) Rochester, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: "When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top, when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair is still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy."

know the way of life, with whom God is striving by His Holy Spirit, but who will not come to Him. I tremble for them, because I know that God loves them. You think that is a very strange reason for trembling for a man. No, I know God loves you, and so loves you that, if He cannot bring you in any other way, He will bring you by sorrow and heartache.

God shows His love for us by sympathizing with us. "In all their affliction He was afflicted." That is one of the wonderful sentences of this Book. There is not a man or woman here who is in trouble but God sympathizes with you. It may have come in any way, but if you have any trouble God sympathizes with you in it.

God shows His love by His gifts. I cannot dwell upon that. I just want to speak of one gift. I John 3:1-2, "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the children of God." Of that wondrous gift that God bestowed upon you and me, that men and women like us should be called children of God.

God shows his love by the sacrifices He has made for us. Sacrifice—after all, that is the great test of love. People tell you they love you, but you cannot tell whether they really love you till the opportunity comes for them to make a sacrifice for you. God has proved His love. "God so loved that He gave"—gave what? "His only begotten Son"—the best He had, the object of His eternal love—gave Him to suffer and die on the cruel cross for you and me.

What are you going to do with His love? Accept it, or trample it under foot? Accept Christ and accept that love; reject Christ, and you trample that love under foot. I cannot understand how any man or woman in their right senses can harden their hearts against the love of God. What are you going to do with the love of God? You know God's love; how are you going to repay it?

THESE LOVE PARIS

ATTRACTED TO RUE DE LA PAIX, MOST BEAUTIFUL STREET ON FACE OF GLOBE.

PROMINENT AMERICANS ARE SEEN

One of the "Forty Immortals" Has Had His Heart Pierced by Arrows
Shot From the Eyes of a Beautiful Actress.

Special Cable From The Hearst News Service.

BY MARQUIS DE CASTELLANE.
Paris, Nov. 13.—While the Rue de la Paix, said to be the most beautiful street in the world, attracts the noted and notorious of all nations, the Americans may be said to really dominate it. Its myriads of pretty midnights, its gems, sparkling in the shop windows, its commanding view of Napoleon's column at one end and the Place de l'Opera at the other, are all fascinating and attractive.

But it is chiefly to gaze at each other that the motley throng walks there each evening from 5 to 7. One sees Prince George, of Greece, promenading in pleasing exile; ex-Mayor Van Wyck, of New York, who has become quite Parisian in costume and bearing; Harris Phelps, the only American who ever became a French citizen; Perry Belmont, looking a bit out of sorts; Nat Goodwin, with one side of his face betokening the accomplished actor and the other spelling the shrewd financier.

Again one sees General Spiridovich following in the train of a rich widow well known to Parisian society; Abe Hummel, wearing a hunted look; George Moore, growing because his novels do not sell faster, to say nothing of Berry Wall, looking his part of ex-duce to perfection.

Here one meets also, on a sunny afternoon, the Duke of Rohan, jostling the smiling Billy Robinson, of New York; Sellers McKee, arm in arm with his son, the festive Hart; Colonel Watterson between two middle-aged men whom he jocosely terms "his boys," and finally the Duke of Sparta, tall and distinguished, wondering if he will ever really mount the throne of Greece.

So you see the Rue de la Paix is to a certain extent the street of all nations, although the Americans seem to own it.

The blind Dely has found a way to the heart of one of our most illustrious "immortals," Monsieur Anatole France, first of French stylists, officer of the Legion of Honor and member of the Academy; in other words, one of the "forty immortals." Yes, the heart of this illustrious academician has been pierced by the arrows shot from the black and beautiful eyes of Mlle. Brindeau, one of our rising young actresses. It is safe to say that Anatole France, whose real name is Jacques Anatole Thibault, stands at the head of French men of letters today.

Some months ago he was invited by the government of the Argentine republic to deliver a series of lectures, at Buenos Ayres he met his pretty compatriot, Mlle. Brindeau. She had beauty, talent and bright eyes; he had wit, learning and glittering gold. The snows of sixty-five winters had not dampened the ardor of the great "immortal."

Returning to France by the same steamer, the feeling between the two friends deepened, but, alas, the course of true love never did run smooth. As the gallant Anatole was endeavoring to clear the forty odd trunks of the actress and save her from all annoyance of custom officials, the unmusical voice of a middle-aged female broke upon his ears. With an imperious and commanding gesture she beckoned Anatole to follow her, which he did. The lady who exercised such sway over the fierce revolutionary and socialist is a Mme. Caillavet, to whom it seems he is indebted for substantial aid—aid proffered and accepted during his days of obscurity and struggle. But as this lady already has a husband of her own, arrangements are well under way which will unite in wedlock Anatole France and Mlle. Brindeau.

Since Alphonse Daudet wrote "Kings in Exile," and even long before, royal exiles of all nations have sought to find a panacea for grief in the brightness and gaiety of Paris life. We have at present in Paris the princes of the royal house of Greece.

We have also two charming American ladies, namely, Mrs. Charles Carroll and Mrs. Frederick Bell. A rivalry has sprung up between them, it seems, of which the young princes are the cause. Mrs. Carroll is seen going about with Prince George one day and the next he assists at a luncheon at Mrs. Bell's. Mrs. Carroll has somewhat the advantage, because she speaks perfect French, her mother having been a Frenchwoman.

On the other hand, the hospitable widow is very rich. She has been said to order fifty frocks at once in the Rue de la Paix, and is noted for the splendid festivities at her mansion in the Rue Barbey de Jouy. Furthermore, exiled princes are said to be particularly fond of rich American widows. So it would seem Mrs. Bell is triumphant.

We have one young general in France who has distinguished himself both in love and war. He did gallant fighting as commander in chief of the French forces in Morocco, and, when ill health compelled him to resign he returned to France literally covered with honors.

Having conquered the enemies of his country, the young general next set about conquering one of its most beautiful widows, Mme. Fortoul, a rich, brilliant, accomplished woman, whom, oddly enough, he met on the battlefield of a far-off Morocco town. Mme. Fortoul had left home, country, friends, society, to cast her lot with the suffering and dying. It was as a Red Cross nurse that she attracted the attention of General Llanthey. Now he has just led her to the altar.

Mme. Fortoul has been compared in looks to the exquisite Mme. Letellier, wife of Henri Letellier, owner of the Paris Journal. Others think she resembles Mrs. George Law, of New York, but everyone is agreed the general has won a prize.

The last scientific act of Prof. Lombroso's life was to collect some statistics of "love tragedies." Lombroso claimed that the greater number of suicides among the Latin races came from disappointment in love. He found in his researches that women died tragically from disappointed love more frequently than men. In France alone statistics show that of such suicides 70 per cent are women. In America he found more men suicides than women, not, however, due to blighted affections, but to money losses.

The following story is told of Lombroso and chief of the prefecture, M. Goron: When Goron was in the active police service he received a letter from Lombroso, asking for a set of photographs of female offenders. In an adjoining drawer M. Goron kept a set of photos of street vendors, all good, hardworking women, mothers of families and eminently respectable and trustworthy. There was no reason for keeping such photos, except the clause in the law requiring market women to take out a permit to sell their wares in the streets. In his haste M. Goron forwarded these photos instead of those of the female offenders and criminals. The professor, thinking he had a precious collection of crime to work upon, wrote out his conclusions, as follows:

No. 1 is a confirmed drunkard; No. 2 obviously irresponsible for her acts; No. 3, all the instincts of a murderess; and so on all through the whole fifty of the collection. And all the while the real culprits were

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional case with this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The Knock-out Blow

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but to the stomach we are utterly indifferent, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out.

Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Golden Medical Discovery." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If not promptly supplied trade elsewhere.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, cloth-bound. Address Dr. Pierce as above. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

slumbering peacefully in the drawer of M. Goron's desk.

But Prof. Lombroso has promised to send us news of his doings in the other world through the celebrated Italian medium Eusapia Palladino, so we may have some explanation of this matter. If the able criminologist was not able to justify his error during his life time, he may be able to do so now that he is dead.

Charles H. Gauss, Who Is Now a Resident of St. Louis.

Mr. C. H. Gauss, of St. Louis, was in the city Friday and was a guest of the Antlers hotel.

Mr. Gauss was a resident of Sedalia from 1872 to 1883; was in the lumber business. Also, he was a member of the school board as a democrat, although the board is always non-partisan.

Gauss was then and still is a Christian gentleman, a prince among men and belongs to a generation who still believe that modesty, suave manners and gentleness of character constitute a virtue not to be discarded for loudness and twentieth century brazenness.

His inquiries about old residents, many of whom are camping on the shores of the River Styx, was interesting and was sufficient to recall the writer's memory of those who were lost in time's hurly-burly of the past twenty-five years.

Mr. Gauss retains his love for Sedalia and her people, and in talking about it his eyes wore a far-away look—dreamy and wishful, and when accused of being sorry that he had left, he denied the allegation and tried to look cheerful—but, but, he was slightly depressed.

Gauss is always welcome in Sedalia.

Homemade Music Roll—The Latest Novelty in Belts.

A homemade music roll is a smart present for the girl who sings or plays. In this receptacle she may carry her loose sheets of music when going about from place to place. Leather rolls for the same purpose are much more commonplace than a daintily homemade one of silk or art linen. As illustrated, the roll is of art linen in a dull shade of brown, enlivened with touches of embroidery in brown and tan tones. To make the roll a strip of linen is cut the size of an ordinary music roll. The embroidery is then worked on the linen and the strip lined with copper colored taffeta silk. For the ends two circles of cardboard are covered with linen on one side and silk on the inner side. To these pieces the roll is sewed, an opening being left in which to insert the sheets of music. The whole affair is bound with brown ribbon, and the handle is of twisted cords.

Dressing Table Accessory.
To make a pretty handkerchief bag two embroidered handkerchiefs are laced together on three sides with ribbon through the beading which forms a part of the fancy border. Ribbon is run through the beading on the fourth side and used as drawstrings for the bag and loops to hang or carry it by. The handkerchiefs may be laced together entirely and used as a baby's pillow, or by inserting a sheet of scented cotton wool instead of the pillow a sachet for a wardrobe drawer may be made.

Homemade Brassieres.
If you have a stout friend make her a brassiere. It can be of four widths of three inch gingham ribbon, the edges lapped, not stitched. These are held in place with wide featherbone in front, where it is hooked, and on slightly curved lines over the bust. It is held in place by a ribbon over each shoulder, which hooks to the featherbone at each side. Less pretentious ones are made of cambric cut like a short, low necked basque and severely featherboned at each seam. They are buttoned or hooked down the front and are cut off two inches above the waist.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The safest medicines are those which leave the system in the best condition after their use. This is one of the principal virtues we claim for S. S. S. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and bark, it is not in even the smallest degree harmful to any system, but on the other hand its vegetable ingredients make it one of the finest of tonics to build up the health in every way. A great many blood medicines contain strong mineral ingredients which unfavorably affect the bowels, stomach or digestive system, and any blood-purifying effect they might have is therefore offset by their injurious action on the general health. S. S. S. is the one safe and sure blood purifier. It goes into the circulation and rids the blood of every impurity or pollution. It strengthens the circulation and adds nourishing properties to the blood and greatly assists in the cure of any blood disease. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all like diseases, because it purifies the circulation. S. S. S. may be taken by young or old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure all diseases and disorders due to an impure or poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

A DIVORCE WAS GRANTED

The Wife of Edwin A. Krauthoff, Kansas City Lawyer.

On the ground of incompatibility of temper, Mrs. Nance Krauthoff was granted a divorce in Kansas City Friday from Edwin A. Krauthoff, the well known lawyer.

The couple was married December 18, 1901. Their one child was given into the custody of the mother.

The plaintiff was Mr. Krauthoff's second wife, and was formerly a stenographer in New York city, where she did some work for the lawyer, who fell in love and married her.

Mr. Krauthoff's first wife was a daughter of Phil E. Chappel, a former Sedalian and once state treasurer of Missouri, by whom he had one son, who is still living.

It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Then help them, don't drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Vitalize these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how fast good health will come to you again. Test it and see. Sold by D. I. Wilcox.

THEATRE AS A CHURCH

Hope to Attract People Who'd Not Attend Otherwise.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Providence, Nov. 13.—The Providence opera house will be turned into a church tomorrow evening, and on successive Sunday evenings, when the Rev. Dr. E. A. Hanley, pastor of the First Baptist church, will address audiences which are expected to fill the big theater.

Although the church has an excellent edifice of its own, it was decided to secure the theater for services, in the belief that the opera house meetings will attract hundreds of worldlings who could not be lured into a church.

"Health Coffee" is the cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made. Dr. Shoop created it from parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Fine in flavor—is made in just one minute. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. Sample free.—J. R. Williams.
